Father And Son Held In Hijacking

Senate Hearing Opens

Bill Sets Life In Prison For Airliner Hijackings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid mounting congressional demands for action aimed at halting airliner hijacking, a Senate hearing opens today on legislation to make such offenses federal crimes punishable by life imprisonment.

That's the penalty for piracy on the high seas.

The proposed bill also would provide stiff penalties for assaulting, threatening or interfering with crew members of commercial airliners and for passengers who carry any type of deadly weapon aboard planes.

Government officials and airlines spokesmen and pilots were summoned as witnesses by the Senate Aviation Subcommittee in the wake of an attempt over Texas Thursday to hijack a Continental Airlines 707 jet. The pilot was quoted as saying the gun-wielding hijackers ordered him to fly to Cuba.

As Capitol Hill clerks rushed early reports of the hijacking to senators and representatives — some of the first reports said the hijackers were Cubans — tempers flared and words grew bitter in Congress.

Most of the anger was aimed at Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, for most Congress members assumed his regime was behind the hijacking.

Less than two weeks ago, an Electra plane with 33 passengers and 5 crew members was hijacked after takeoff from Miami for Tampa, Fla., and flown to Cuba. The passengers and crew were returned to the United States the next day, July 25, but the plane was held in Cuba.

It wasn't until Monroney announced the capture of the Beards that senators generally realized Cuba might not be involved.

One of the sections of the proposed bill would make the hijacking of an airliner the equivalent under federal law to piracy, and thus subject to a penalty of life imprisonment.

Another would provide for imprisonment up to 20 years and fines up to $10,000 for assaulting, intimidating, threatening or inter-

U.N. Gets Protest From Castro Regime

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government protested to the U.N. Security Council today because U. S. congressmen assumed the Castro regime was behind the hijacking of a Boeing jet airliner Thursday.

A Cuban note to the council accused the U. S. government of using the plane incident as a pretext for preparing military aggression against Cuba.

The Castro government charged that U. S. congressmen had launched a virtual ultimatum and threat of war against Cuba and said this attitude was part of a deliberate campaign by the U. S. government to set the stage for armed action against Cuba.

Interfering with crew members to prevent them from performing their duties.

If the assault or threats were carried out with a deadly weapon, the minimum penalty would be 20 years in jail. Life imprisonment could be meted out.

Agency OKs Guns For Airliner Crews

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has authorized commercial airline crews to carry guns to prevent any more hijacking.

Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby announced the arming authority Thursday—soon after two hijackers, who took over a Boeing 707 jet airliner, surrendered to federal officers at El Paso, Tex.

The immediate reaction of industry leaders was either indecision or outright rejection.

From American Airlines came a statement that it flatly was "against arming any members of any of our crews." Other airlines said they would take the matter under consideration.

Clarence N. Sayen, president of the Airline Pilots Association, said: "The association does not advocate arming of pilots."

John Carroll, of Kansas City, Mo., association first vice president, said pilots were unenthusiastic about the idea. He said the safety value of arming crews was doubtful because of great hazard involved in firing a gun in a pressurized airplane.

In making his announcement at a news conference, Halaby said crew members should be armed "only when they have recent training and demonstrable proficiency."

Halaby also had this advice for crew members — keep your cockpits closed from the inside.

Halaby disclosed to newsmen that President Kennedy was the federal official who made the decision to turn down all deals and move in on the hijackers at El Paso.

"If anyone had been injured or killed it would have been a tragedy," Halaby said.

"But we are in the middle of a conflict between law-abiding citizens and law-breaking citizens and law-abiding nations and lawless nations, and it's up to us to manage it intelligently. To do so one has to take some risk, despite the anxiety."

Man, 31, Slain Fleeing Store At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Policemen shot and killed Nick Petro, 31, early today while investigating a report that a dairy store was being broken into.

The officers said they saw Petro, who had been staying at the Volunteers of America, trying to break into the D & T Dairy Store. Petro fled, ignoring a warning shot, police said. The officers then opened fire, and Petro was hit in the head and leg.

Killed Accidentally

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Airman 2.C. Kenneth R. Kocinski, 20, of Cleveland was shot and killed accidentally at Selfridge Air Force Base Thursday night by a fellow air policeman as they practiced techniques to disarm gunmen, the base said.

By BILL RICHARDSON

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A father-and-son team hijacked a jet airliner Thursday, caused a furor in Congress, and was captured by one blow from an enraged U.S. Border Patrol official. The hijacker pair, Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cody Bearden, 16, were bound over to a federal grand jury under bonds totaling $200,000.

On orders from President Kennedy not to deal with the hijackers, that he would not be blackmailed, Border Patrol men shot the tires from the $5-million Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet as it rolled toward a takeoff for Havana, Cuba.

Then, his nine-hour adventure coming to a fast climax, Bearden allowed FBI men aboard as the hostages left the plane—all but Leonard Gilman. Gilman is associate deputy regional commissioner of the Border Patrol and lives in Long Beach, Calif.

When Bearden for a moment dropped his eyes, Gilman with one bone-breaking wallop knocked him to the plane deck, his cheek spurting blood. Gilman's broken hand later was placed in a cast.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington the elder Bearden in January had visited the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City and indicated a desire to go to Cuba. But the general feeling in Washington appeared to be the Cuban government had no part in the latest U.S. plane hijacking.

The hijacking of Continental's Los Angeles-to-Houston flight came soon after the aircraft had stopped at Phoenix, Ariz., and 20 minutes from El Paso on Texas' far western tip.

Bearden and his son, a slightly built blond, entered the cockpit behind two stewardesses.

"We're going to take this plane to Cuba," the elder Bearden told Capt. B. D. Rickards, the plane's commander. "Alter your course 45 degrees to the south."

Rickards, a veteran of 34 years of flying, alerted El Paso International Airport, with a code word that the plane was hijacked. Then he persuaded Bearden that the plane had too little fuel for the Cuban flight and that they must land at El Paso to refuel.

Rickards said Bearden told him there were four armed men on the plane and the captain so messaged the El Paso airport. This caused some confusion for a time and also caused two of the hostage crewmen, mistaken for pirates, to be roughed up as they alighted.

The plane carried 67 passengers, including the two gunmen, and a crew of six, four men and the two stewardesses. Among the passengers was Gilman en route on official business to Brownsville, Tex.

When Capt. Rickards, 52, of Redondo Beach, Calif., persuaded the Beards to allow the passengers to disembark, Gilman volunteered as one of the four who would stay aboard the plane.

Bearden insisted on 10 persons including the crew as hostages, because he said he feared "authorities would not put much value on six lives."

Then as Continental's ground crewmen stalled with refueling the plane, the younger Bearden and his father became nervous. They wanted to exchange the big Boeing 707 for a DC6. The company offered a DC7.

But from Washington, meanwhile, came the message from Kennedy. Stand firm, the message said.

Inside the big jet, the younger Bearden suddenly accused everybody of stalling. His father agreed. Suddenly they ordered a takeoff. The big plane rolled down the runway, Border Patrol cars in pursuit.

Submachine gun and rifle fire could be heard dimly in the noise of the jet engines. The plane

Income Tax Petitions Ruled Valid

4th Test Assured On Municipal Levy As Appellate Acts

A fourth test of the income tax question in East Liverpool at the polls Nov. 7 is assured, as 23 petitions filed July 27 by Trades and Labor Council, seeking a ballot place for an initiative ordinance, contain 1,046 valid voters' signatures — 170 more than the minimum of 876 required to force a vote.

City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, with whom the petitions were filed, issued the report on the signature count today after his office staff completed the task of checking each name individually against records at the County Election Board office.

The auditor said he will certify his findings to the Election Board next Wednesday at 4:30 p.m., along with a certified copy of the initiative ordinance proposed by Trades Council.

The petitions, as filed with Applegate by Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer of Trades Council, carried a total of 1,183 names. The auditor said his office staff's check eliminated 139.

The names of 108 were eliminated for non-registration and 31 more were rejected for illegibility or apparent duplication in names, the auditor reported. The job of checking the signatures was handled by Mrs. Helen Pepin of the auditor's staff.

Law requires the auditor to hold the petitions 10 days for public inspection. At the same time, he was required to determine if the petitions carried enough valid signatures to warrant a ballot place for the question.

Those Who Work In West Berlin

Reds Issue New Orders To Hamper Commuters

BERLIN (AP)—Communist authorities in East Berlin announced new measures today to harass Germans who live in the Red East but work in West Berlin.

The Communist city government decreed that from Aug. 1 such commuters must pay their bills for rent, electricity, gas, water and other public services in Western German marks on a mark-for-mark basis.

Western money is worth nearly five times as much as the bills the Communists print.

Violators were threatened with jail sentences and fines.

Commuters were again ordered to register with the Communist authorities, whether they hold regular jobs or just do occasional work. Some 52,000 are registered in West Berlin, but many of these — perhaps as many as 20,000 — are not registered with the Communists. An estimated 20,000 to 30,000 more work without registering at all.

Many of the latter group belong to the "wash-rag squadron," women from the East who do housework for the more prosperous West Berliners.

The new Communist measures looked in West Berlin like the Red reply to a protest Thursday from the U.S., British and French commandants in West Berlin against other recent restrictions on travel between East and West Berlin, which is supposed to be guaranteed by the four occupation powers.

In announcing the new measures, the East Berlin city government made no comment on the protest, which was delivered to the Soviet commandant. The Red announcement noted, however, that Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin had not replied to a proposal by East Berlin Mayor Friedrich Ebert for talks about the commuters.

Brandt said that if the Communists respect the right of Berliners to move freely and choose their own jobs, there would be nothing to talk about.

In recent weeks the commuters have been subjected to many restrictions by the Communists. They have been told that they cannot have new apartments, that

Threatened Revolt Fails To Develop On British Change

LONDON (AP)—The Conservative majority in Parliament closed ranks Thursday night and overwhelmingly endorsed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's proposal to start negotiations for Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

Police Cite 3 In Vandalism At City Home

Two boys and a girl, 5 and 6, were apprehended Thursday afternoon in a Gardendale home where widespread vandalism had been committed in the family's absence, police reported.

The youngsters are to appear this afternoon at 1 at City Hall before Juvenile Probation Officer Chris Pusey in connection with damage at the home of Mrs. Alma Booth, 310 Gaddess St., Officers said. They are two brothers, 5 and 6, and a girl, 6, all of Gardendale.

Police said the three were nabbed when Mrs. Booth's 17-year-old daughter and a companion, 13, returned to the home and heard noises as they approached. The friend went to the front door and Mrs. Booth's daughter went to the cellar door, catching the juveniles as they emerged, police said.

Police classified the intrusion as vandalism and malicious destruction of property. They said the youngsters entered the Booth home between 2 and 3 yesterday afternoon via an open front door.

In a ground-floor bedroom, they ransacked a dresser and vanity table and threw the contents on the floor. In the kitchen, they removed dishes and packages of staples from the cupboards and hurled them on the floor, smashing the ware and strewn the contents of the packages, officers said.

In an upstairs bedroom, they ransacked two wardrobe cabinets and a dresser, dumping the contents on the floor. In another sec-

Former Port Homer Man Is Murdered

Body Parts Found In California Park After $2,000 Theft

Police in Los Angeles are continuing an investigation into the brutal murder of a former Irondale High School student who went to California from Port Homer in 1958 with three companions from the Jefferson County community.

Victim of the slaying was Roger Allen Mosser, 25, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mosser of Bellaire, former residents of Port Homer.

His parents were notified Wednesday by friends of his companions that police found his severed head and hands in two plastic bags along with 16 empty money bags in a restroom at the Angeles National Forest in California.

Employed as a maintenance man at the Vermont Bowling Alley in Los Angeles, Mosser had been missing since July 16 while en route to a bank with receipts of the establishment.

The bowling alley had been burglarized in July of approximately $2,000. Although police said he had been sought in connection with the theft of the funds, Ted Welsh, manager of the bowling alley, said "I knew the guy pretty well. I don't think he would do a thing like that. I think he was probably kidnapped and killed because the robber didn't want a live witness."

Mosser was identified by fingerprints of the hands. They match-

U.S., Allies Given Notes By Moscow

Reds Fire Warning, However, Against Military Threats

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government told the United States and other big Western powers in a note today that it was ready to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin question, but warned against military threats.

The note made no specific mention of calling a conference to reach a German agreement although there were rumors in Moscow that the Russians hope to see such a conference before the German elections and perhaps within two or three weeks. The German election comes in mid-September.

The notes, delivered Thursday to the embassies of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, reiterated the repeated statement of Premier Khrushchev that unless an agreement is reached a Soviet peace treaty will be signed with East Germany without American or other Western participation.

The note was a reply to parallel notes delivered to Russia by the three Allied powers and West Germany on July 17.

The Western nations in their note insisted that a peace treaty could be signed with a united Germany only after free all-German elections and declared they will remain in West Berlin under their war-won rights.

In addition to warning the Kremlin of the dangers presented by Moscow's proposals on Berlin and Germany, the Western notes pronounced Britain, France and the United States ready to consider "a freely negotiated settlement of the unresolved problems of Germany."

Moscow Radio said Russia's three notes urged the Western powers to conclude a German peace treaty "on the basis of agreement."

This treaty, the notes said, "should lead to the normalization of the situation in West Berlin."

The 15-page note addressed to the United States stated that a separate Soviet treaty with East Germany will be signed "provided that the United States and other Western powers to not cease impeding the solution of the question of a peace treaty on an agreed basis."

The note was delivered only a few hours after Khrushchev told Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy in a Moscow conference Thursday that he felt a solution was possible without a war but advised the United States and

Man Charged In Damaging Parked Autos

An elderly man was cited on a reckless driving charge Thursday after his car collided with two parked autos on lower St. Clair Ave., police said.

The 1959 four-door sedan of William Wells of Park Way struck a parked 1950 sedan owned by Everett Gillum, 26, of 718 St. Clair Ave. and a parked 1956 sedan owned by John F. Morgan, 1010 St. Clair Ave., officers said.

There was damage to the left rear fenders of each of the parked cars and the right front fender of Wells' auto, officers said. Wells, who was northbound, said he did not see the parked autos and could not explain the collision, police said. The crash was timed at 11:34 a. m.

Wells' hearing is set tentatively for Monday at 10:30 a. m.

A Youngstown man escaped injury Thursday night at 9:58 when his half-ton pickup truck went off Dresden Ave. near Trentvale St., flipped on its side and then skidded onto the highway and hit the oncoming auto of a Chester man, police reported.

Daniel J. O'Horo, 27, the trucker, told police he was out of control about 30 miles an hour when he was blinded by the lights of an approaching vehicle. His truck went off the right side of the highway, turned on its left side and then went back onto the highway, crashing into an inbound 1954 sedan operated by J. C. Allison, 49, of Chester R. D. 1, police said.

There was damage to the left side of each vehicle, police said. O'Horo's truck spilled oil from a cargo of can and a street department crew was called out to spread sand on the slippery substance.

Two autos were damaged in a minor mishap Thursday at 7:55 p. m. in Daisy Ln., police said.

It involved a 1949 convertible driven by Arthur E. Brown, 22, of rear 806 St. Clair Ave. and a parked 1951 two-door sedan owned by Otis Stewart of Post Office Box 611, police said.

Brown told police he was attempting to turn his auto in the alley when it drifted backward and struck Stewart's car. There was damage to the left rear fender of Brown's car and the right front fender and bumper of the Stewart car, police said.

Another auto was damaged in a hit-skip crash Thursday. Vernon Lovett of Shady Ln. Dr. told police at 1:02 p. m. both right doors of his 1959 sedan were damaged when it was hit by an unknown vehicle while parked on W. 5th St.

Son's Air Death Is Hidden From Critical Mother

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A 75-year-old mother lies critically ill in a Canton hospital with a heart condition, unaware her son was killed in a plane crash Thursday. Her family is keeping the news from her, afraid that the shock might hasten her own death.

The victim of the crash was Arthur Roy Oyster, 37, of Louisville, near Canton. He was inspecting electrical lines for the Ohio Power Co. when his single-engine plane hit a line carrying 34,000 volts and exploded into flames as it hit the ground near here.

Witnesses said it appeared the Piper Cub developed engine trouble and that the pilot was trying to make an emergency landing. They said the craft circled the area twice and nosed straight into the ground the third time around.

The pilot's mother, Mrs. Arthur Oyster, is in Canton's Mercy Hospital and it's feared she may die before she learns of her son's death.

Oyster, a World War II Air Force veteran, was flying a plane owned by Aerial Patrol, Inc., based at the Akron-Canton Airport. When it crashed, the severing of power lines cut off electrical service to parts of Scioto County.

DiSalle Opens 'Road' Attack Against GOP

By ART PARKS
MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Less than 48 hours after the Republican-led legislature gave up the ghost, Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle hit the road Thursday night to tell his side of the story.

His theme was familiar to state-house reporters who have heard it many times in the last six months, but it seemed to register well with an estimated 500 persons at a Middletown Democratic rally held at an amusement park south of the city.

"I am going to attack the legislature's record any way I can and as long as I can to make sure Ohio maintains decent standards of education, welfare and mental health," he asserted in the kick-off speech of what he has announced as a statewide stumping tour.

The governor left few stones unturned in his denunciation of the record of the Republican lawmakers elected on a hold-the-line financial platform, and of the leaders of the Ohio GOP.

DiSalle accused the Republicans of making a mighty—and successful—effort to capture control of the legislature in 1960 with talk of high taxes, extravagance and waste.

But their real reason for the all-out effort, he asserted, was to prevent congressional redistricting which might have upset the GOP's almost 2-1 margin in the state's delegation to Congress.

The legislature failed to set up a 24th congressional district at the session just ended. Ohio became entitled to a 24th congressman because of a population increase shown by the 1960 census.

As a result, the extra congressman will be elected statewide next year.

The governor reiterated earlier assertions that this year's legislature was "the most completely lobbyist-dominated assembly in the memory of veteran reporters."

He added: "It wrote a record of protection to the privileged. A hard core of complete Republican partisans was determined to keep its promises to campaign contributors."

Referring back to taxes, DiSalle asserted some GOP legislative candidates campaigned last year with the statement that Ohio taxes were increased far too high by the 1959 legislature at DiSalle's request.

"Did they cut taxes?" He asked. "They did not! They couldn't and they were dishonest when they said it could be done."

"Last January, 102 Republican legislators marched up the hill shouting about all they intended to do. This week they slid down the same hill—ineffective—without accomplishments. They left Columbus in almost abject confusion."

"It's about time we become a mature state. We just can't think any longer in terms of the way things were 25 or 30 years ago."

Fire Project Set At Lawrenceville

Plans to operate the Chaney Service Station Sept. 9 for fire department funds were made by the Lawrenceville volunteer firemen at a meeting Thursday night at the fire station.

Don Chaney, operator of the Chester station, will permit the day's proceeds to be used for department funds.

The firemen are to take part in a parade at Bergholz tonight. A fire drill is planned Saturday afternoon at the fire station.

Firemen will collect the quarterly coin cards, used for fire equipment, from area residents next week. Officers will draw up new bylaws. Okey Leasure, president, was in charge.

Next meeting is Aug. 17.

Farm Bureau Units To Meet This Month

LISBON — Columbiana County Farm Bureau members are meeting this month in Advisory Councils to consider the topic, "What Can We Do to Prepare for Retirement?"

Ben Glover, associate director of adult education for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said in the August discussion guide that many farmers will be living 15 to 20 years longer than their fathers and will be faced by such problems as adequate income, health, housing, family life, friends, satisfying activities and acquiring new interests.

Youth Pulled From Ledge After Tumble

CLEVELAND (AP) — Kenneth House, 13, lay on a narrow ledge 400 feet up the side of a sheer shale cliff in Garfield Heights for five minutes Thursday before he was pulled to safety by a worker using a chain.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph House of Cleveland was playing with two companions when he fell over the edge of the cliff and landed on the ledge about 25 feet down. Four hundred feet below him was a water-filled abandoned sand pit.

Seeing him fall, Kenneth's companions ran to the nearby Gateway Salvage Co. yard, Charles Sidoto, 50, an employee, grabbed a chain and followed the boys back to the cliff.

Kenneth grabbed the chain which Sidoto lowered over the edge and was pulled to safety.

"If he had moved an inch he would have fallen," said Fire Battalion Chief Charles I. Mentkowski, who arrived with the Garfield Heights fire rescue squad moments before the boy was pulled to the top. "But he was so scared he was motionless."

Your interest or dividends will be subject to withholding taxes of 20% by the Federal Government under bills now proposed to Congress.

This means that churches, synagogues, orphanages, union trust funds, hospitals, all charitable organizations, widows, pensioners and even little children must file complicated tax forms to obtain refunds. Can you imagine the red tape involved in getting a fifty cent tax refund for a two-year-old child!

The aged, blind or indigent earning less than necessary to pay income tax will have to wait months or perhaps a year to get refunds. Meanwhile who buys the groceries while the government keeps their dividend money... at NO interest?

Who gains when funds rightfully belonging to United Appeals, local hospital building fund, or Red Cross are delayed by the tax collector?

The cost of such a mountain of paper work could very easily be more than the added revenue to our government.

Remember, this insidious bill is not yet passed but hearings to decide the outcome are being held this week in Washington. ACT NOW BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE!

If you feel that this withholding tax against your savings is unfair, now is the time for protest... not after the bill is passed. Write your Congressman and Senators today.

Another Approach To Civil Defense

One theme has run through the testimony of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara on stepped-up civil defense. He left no doubt when he appeared before the military operations subcommittee of the House Government Operations Committee that Washington's ignorance on this vital matter is deep and far-reaching.

Much of the $207 million requested by President Kennedy in addition to the $104 million already included in the Eisenhower budget submitted last January would be spent on surveys and studies. Secretary McNamara reasons that we can't know what to do until we've found out what we need to do and that most of the things we've talked about and done so far were noodle-headed.

This is serious testimony. Under the new civil defense setup, the secretary of defense is top man. Civil defense now is a Pentagon responsibility, which will be borne by a Defense Department agency.

Evacuation is absurd, says Secretary McNamara, though that was thought about for a time. Equally absurd, in his opinion, is a multi-billion-dollar program of shelter construction. What he seems to be looking toward with favor is a program for utilizing what already exists, plus specialized facilities that could be applied to facilities already built, such as ventilating systems. The aim would be to give as many citizens as might be able to get to shelter in case of nuclear attack a fighting chance to survive.

It is not a happy prospect, but it has the merit of being realistic. Civil defense has limped and wobbled through years of erratic movement because most Americans didn't think the ideas were realistic and refused to take them seriously. They resented what looked to them like a fund-spending bureaucracy dedicated to running in circles.

If Secretary McNamara can boil civil defense down to believable proportions such as home shelters that citizens can afford and urban-center shelters that would give at least a few city dwellers a fighting chance to survive the detonation of a nuclear bomb, civil defense could get somewhere.

Nuclear warfare is still improbable, though it was practiced briefly by the United States against Japan in the closing weeks of World War II. The probable warfare would be blockbusting bombs as far as cities and civilians are concerned—the same kind of warfare against cities that was practiced throughout World War II, though the most feared weapon before that conflict began was gas. But gas was never used.

The shelters that had been prepared in the cities and many of the facilities that were supposed to protect civilians against gas were used for the bomb warfare that was practiced, instead. They were invaluable.

That might be one way to pin civil defense down to earth in the United States—by talking about the prospect of something less than nuclear warfare.

Mr. Murphy Makes A Declaration

As all of us learned at the tour director's knee when we were children, policemen in New York City are the "finest." They have needed to be, to withstand the corruptionists, hoodlums, crime syndicalists, racketeers and political agitators who have tried tirelessly to thwart them.

Now there is a new foe—the citizen.

"The police cannot fight crime and the public at the same time," declared Michael J. Murphy, New York police commissioner at a police ceremony recently. He recounted that 1,780 policemen had been attacked in the last 12 months. This has brought to a 10-year climax a growing problem of metropolitan police protection.

Injuries were inflicted on 107 policemen making arrests and on 49 putting down disorderly activities. Nearly 2,000 persons were arrested as a result of these attacks.

"We are experiencing a very disturbing trend in law enforcement and in city government which threatens to cause a split between the community and the police," said Commissioner Murphy. "In certain parts of the city, when police move in to carry out their sworn duty to keep the peace and protect life and property, it is an unfortunate fact of life that few if any persons will assist them. Such public apathy is bad enough. Even worse are the causes of contrived public resistance in which an arrest becomes an excuse for attack and combatting disorder too often becomes the signal for more disorder."

New York's "finest" . . .
Also New York's "bravest."

Roy Paisley

Roy D. Paisley, who died Wednesday, rightfully could be called a dedicated newspaperman.

Despite illness, he faithfully had continued his duties as publisher of the Midland News to the very end.

Roy found time to participate in many other worthwhile enterprises, but his real love was the News, which he handled so capably over the many years. He took pride in his work and was a credit to the profession he represented.

Many Of Us Now Feel Better

The British Broadcasting Corporation has earned a debt of gratitude from many of us who know no more about avant-garde music than we know about far-out art. It pulled what it admits was a "serious hoax" in our behalf last June.

For 12 minutes it broadcast the sounds of a roomfull of people banging, blowing and strumming on a variety of musical instruments, having announced this cacophony would be the first broadcast of a previously unheard work by a Polish composer named Piotr Zak. The hoax, it admitted later, was "to demonstrate that some contemporary compositions are so obscure as to be indistinguishable from tapes of percussions played at random."

What made the hoax hoaxier was the reaction of music critics, who wrote serious discussions of the Zak composition. It is to their credit that they didn't like it but to their discredit that they did not dismiss it as a hoax.

That is why BBC has earned our gratitude. It has prodded the honesty that many of us put aside in the presence of what we feel to be hoaxes. We are so afraid we might reveal our ignorance that we reveal it by trying to conceal it.

Fortified by the story of the Piotr Zak composition that never was, many of us now will quit holding our tongues when confronted with cacophony in the name of music and daubs and scrawls in the name of art. We shall smile amiably and declare, "They're kidding." They must be.

The Once Over

Khrushchev's new 20-year program takes 45,000 words to say. "Out of my way, everybody!" Nikita calls off Western civilization on account of wet grounds and orders all except the Russian players off the field in global ball game.

It's Khrushchev's answer to "Oh, Promise Me" with built-in promise that "everything is coming up roses, and if I am wrong at the end of 20 years sue my estate."

Boiled down, the message adds "Positive No Waiting" to his threat "We will bury you," advises the Free World to run to the nearest exit and implies that Bunker Hill, Concord Bridge, Lexington and Yorktown were Hollywood comedy "shorts."

He talks as if George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton and John Hancock were Singer Midgets. Everybody has been wrong throughout history except Marx and Lenin, Nikita thinks.

He outpromises the rest of world, pledging Soviet people free medicine, longer vacations, less work and more education. "All aboard the Moscow express for the three-holiday week and sturgeon eggs in every pot."

The seven-word keynote is "I can lick anybody in the house." The message reads like a combination riot call, wrecking crew directive, synopsis for a Welsh rarebit dream and blueprint for a single-team world series.

It says the party will give full effect to slogan "Everything in the name of man for the benefit of man." (Does this include Russian tanks to beat down Hungarian revolutions, secret police, threats, ultimatums and the veto?)

Capitalism can't be saved even with safety belts, Khrushchev declares. (Wanna bet?)

Odd Facts

By the end of 1961, the world's population will be more than three billion, according to the UN Economic and Social Council. The world population at the time of Christ was estimated at about 100 million. The population explosion began in the middle of the 19th century with the improvement of medical care and food facilities, and has been accelerating ever since. World population passed the two-billion mark in 1930 and has thus increased by 50 per cent in only 30 years.

Port In A Storm

The Turks Are Our Friends

By Victor Riesel

ANKARA

If you fear the Russians, come live with the Turks for a while. It's refreshing despite the noon-day sun. Here it is just plain good to relax in the open-hearted friendship for Americans — a friendship we don't have to buy.

Here it is good to see a people who have fought the Russians. Victor Riesel in 14 wars during the past 300 years and still don't fear them.

Here it is delightful to know that just an hour's jet flight north-eastward to the Erzrum area near the Soviet border there is a dialect spoken which has no endemic word for enemy — the word they use is "Moskov" — meaning that if it's Russian it's bad and not to be trusted.

Whether you talk to a peasant or an oil worker or a street laborer or Mr. Namik Yolga, permanent under secretary of state (Foreign Ministry), as I just have, you find that the Turks want no war but neither do they want any dealings with the Soviets.

Within the past few months the Russians have offered almost $400 million in industrial aid to this mighty poor country. The Turks turned it down.

During the recently overthrown Menderes regime, the Russians did convince some Turks to accept a $2½ million loan for a small glass factory.

THE TURKISH authorities came to the U.S. officials here and told us what was happening and urged us to try and head it off.

Not only do the Turks not want Russia's bribes, not only do they not fear the Soviet bloc but our friends openly show their contempt for the Red soldiers.

I was with a group of young Turks and U.S. military men the other night. I spoke of my fascination with the nearby Russian border.

I was told, for example, of the area around Hopa. There the Russians have been slipping in a man or two a night.

The Turks let them infiltrate. Then a dead body, or two, is shipped back across the Red frontier each day.

I heard one Turk tell of orders to the Turkish soldiers. One of these directives said, in effect, you must kill 10 of the invading Red troops before you retreat one step if fighting starts. If you don't kill 10 invaders before you step back you will be arrested as a deserter.

OF COURSE, the Russians try to entice Turkish soldiers across the border. This would give them "evidence" of NATO espionage.

So the Russians send women to bathe nude in the Black Sea near Hopa. Then the women walk scantily clad into the fields just over their own line.

The Turks call in their buddies and view it all as a girlie show. But no one takes this bribe either.

They tell me there are some 20 kilometers between Hopa and the border. A good deal of this terrain is covered with smooth impressionable sand and dust. So at night the Turkish soldiers put their boots on backwards and walk towards the Russian territory.

When Russian officers survey this in the morning it appears that scores of men left the Soviets and sought haven inside

Turkey. This gives the appearance of a flight of refugees.

No one here underestimates the power of a giant stroke of the bear's paw. But no one here, right under the guns, is frightened, either.

THIS COLD CONTEMPT for the Russians and Soviet Communism spills over into other fields as well. The unions here, under the new Gursel government, are a good example of this.

The national labor federation here is called "Turk-is" for short. Under the new law it can affiliate with international labor organizations of which there are many around the world.

But the new government says that "Turk-is" cannot tie up with global outfits which are not democratic and which do not adhere to the principles of human rights. This means no affiliation with Communist labor groups.

Naturally all this gives ulcers to the officials at the Soviet Embassy over on New Parliament St., where I found myself unwelcome in several languages.

The Soviets may have 300 to 400 followers in all of Turkey and its universities. But the Russians never give up. They use the "soft sell."

THIS IS DONE through a secret, all Turkish broadcasting station located 500 miles distant in Eastern Germany. This station is strong enough to saturate all Turkey. It comes in clear here, with news and music and just the slightest anti-U.S. slant. But its pressure is steady.

It calls itself "Our Radio" — Nizim Radyo. The peasants listen to it in the villages. The workers tune in while sitting in the coffee houses. It must cost the Russians millions of dollars. But Nizim Radyo has won friends. The government here will try to counter it with a new broadcasting unit. But that takes money.

This is a poor country. Most of it is farm land.

The Turks — the government people — never were merchants or industrialists. They were and are soldiers.

With no industry here yet, the average per capita income is $150 a year — three bucks a week. In the cities the pay runs a little higher — anywhere from $4.20 to nine dollars a week.

These are our friends and we must help them. We're building oil refineries and a big steel mill for the country. But we must help more and more — men earning $3 a week, or $9, despite their patriotism and fraternity for us and hatred for "Moskov," will not forever remain immune to such subtleties as Nazim Radyo.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Years ago I quit being embarrassed because I hadn't read any good books late. Other members of my family always kept me posted. But every so often I do read a good book, with disastrous results. All day reading at work and all night reading a book add up to too much eyestrain.

The air-conditioning system I mentioned recently in this column now is working, and for the first time in a lengthening life I am enjoying the experience of going home at night in dry clothing.

I admire the way the Kennedys are keeping Caroline out of the papers, but every time I see a picture of the child I melt. Not that she's cuter than other little girls the same age, but they're all cute for the head of an all-boy household.

The first horticulturist who has time would do me a favor by explaining what causes our Early Transparent apple tree to bear fruit every other year, though other apple trees perform the trick every year.

The quickest way to stop sky piracy would be publication of pictures like a would-be pirate lying with his kisser in the dirt on the airfield at Chico, Calif., where he shot a few people in an effort to commandeer a plane.

In questioning other people close to my own age, I find no one who remembers that the weather in this part of the country used to be as uncertain as it is now. They believe it formerly was divided between good and bad; that it was one or the other, instead of a mixed-up mess.

As I get it—and it hasn't been easy—the new civil defense doctrine is that millions of us would be atomized in a nuclear attack but other millions would survive if they were lucky enough to live in the country, away from detonation areas, and had provided themselves with fall-out shelters.

The most intensive buildup ever made for a collective bargaining showdown is continuing to gain momentum as "Solidarity House" in Detroit, headquarters for United Auto Workers, deluges newspaper offices with daily mailings of its viewpoints on negotiations with the auto manufacturers.

Strange Paradox

By David Lawrence

Britain's Trade Move Shares Spotlight

IN EUROPE

Its a strange paradox that while the American people are worrying over the Berlin crisis and whether military reservists will soon be called up for active duty, the peoples of Europe are talking excitedly about Great Britain's momentous decision "to join the Continent."

Strictly speak—David Lawrence

ing, the British are merely applying for membership in the European Economic Community — known as the Common Market — but the speculation all the way from Moscow to the faraway commonwealths of Canada and Australia is concerned with what the move may mean by way of European political union.

On its face, the discussion of political purposes in an international sense is puzzling. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization already includes all of the members of the Common Market countries, known as "The Six."

It also embraces four of the countries — Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark — associated together in a rival organization known as the European Free Trade Association or "The Seven."

Moscow, indeed, sarcastically calls the whole combination just another "economic subdivision of NATO."

tries over the decision of Britain to enter the Common Market organization than there is in Paris.

The presence of two major powers — France and Britain — in the enlarged Common Market could tend gradually to lessen the political emphasis and keep the organization preoccupied, as it inevitably must be, with the technically difficult questions of tariff changes to be applied as between the various member countries.

While a free-trade setup is the goal, all sorts of special arrangements may have to be worked out in the transition period, particularly in Britain's trade relations with Canada and Australia and the other Commonwealth countries.

In the final analysis, the enlarged organization will have to draw a line between political and economic questions.

Certainly Sweden, Switzerland, Finland and Austria — due to their special positions of neutrality — will wish to have the status only of an associate member, while Denmark, Norway, Portugal and Great Britain will accept the obligations of full-fledged membership in the bigger Common Market organization.

INSIDE BRITAIN, the controversy rages as to whether the decision to "join the Continent" is a wise one. Obviously, those business or labor groups whose industries are to be adversely affected do not like the idea.

Others, foreseeing an expanded market made available on the Continent, are enthusiastically backing the plan.

Prime Minister Macmillan is moving cautiously and is taking one step at a time.

It probably will be several months before all the differences, especially with the Commonwealth countries, will be ironed out, and before the economic effects will really be felt.

Also, Mr. Macmillan probably found solace in the old adage: "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

Surely, Great Britain will have more of a say and more influence inside the Common Market than outside, particularly if major political decisions have to be made.

So far as the United States is concerned, the impression prevails in Europe that the proposed merger of "The Six" and "The Seven" into a big Common Market operation is popular in America.

Actually, the Washington government has informally expressed its hope that some kind of economic union will be successful and that political solidarity will be achieved by one means or another.

Naturally, the United States doesn't offer any advice as to details but confines itself at this time to giving support to the general principal of reduced tariffs and to the drive for a bigger trade volume all around.

Berlin Ready For Siege

By Ernie Weatherall

BERLIN

Like Joseph, in the Old Testament, who gathered food during the seven prosperous years and stored it away for a time of dearth, West Berlin is doing the same in the event the city's fragile supply lines with the free world are severed again.

This stockpiling has been going on ever since the end of the Berlin Blockade of 1948-49, when the Allied airlift kept the besieged city alive.

The bulk of the stockpile is shipped from the free world and passes through Communist East Germany either by barge, in railway boxcars or is trucked over the autobahn.

Headquarters of the stockpile are in the great storage facilities in Westhafen, West Berlin's big inland "seaport" where barges arrive each day from West Germany.

There is nothing secret about the storage program. In fact, some of the supplies come from Iron Curtain countries.

A good example of this is the thousands of tons of wheat stored in silos and granaries from the Russian Ukraine. The wheat was shipped to West Berlin under a trade agreement between the West German government and the Soviet Union.

It is ironic that with the Communist satellite countries suffering from a food shortage, tons of barley and other grains from East Germany and Hungary, have made their way to the West Berlin stockpile.

Warehouses are crammed with canned meat from Poland, vegetables from Czechoslovakia and fruit from Yugoslavia. With the West German mark about the hardest currency in Europe, Iron Curtain countries eagerly ship foodstuffs to West Berlin to bolster their foreign exchange.

When the vast stockpiling program began after the airlift, Eberhard Wolff was appointed director and his first job was to find places to store his reserve supplies in the war shattered city.

Wherever he could find any open space in the West Sector he used it to build up mountains of coal. Bombed out and abandoned factories were repaired so they could be used as warehouses.

Today, most of the supplies are stored in Westhafen which lies in the shadow of the Communist East Sector. In this huge complex, there are grain silos, warehouses filled with thousands of sacks of cement, coffee, cocoa, tea, barrels of vegetable oils, chemicals, paint, newsprint, dried peas, rice—shelf after shelf of items, which if carefully rationed during a siege would last at least six to nine months.

Enough fuel has been stockpiled to keep busses, trucks and other vital transportation going. Other raw materials is stored so that factories can continue producing. This will prevent unemployment from soaring the way it did during the war.

Ration cards for West Berlin's 2½ million residents have been printed and the minute a blockade begins, they will be issued and the reserve supplies put into circulation.

Not forgotten, are the brewers of West Berlin. Enough malt, hops and barley have been stored away so Berliners can enjoy a foaming glass of beer even though their Communist-surrounded island is cut off by another blockade.

Deaths and Funerals

Mill Railroad Employee Dies

Joseph E. Nesselrode, 1623 Park Ave., an engineer in the transportation department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died Thursday at 1 p. m. at City Hospital after a brief illness. He was 70.

He was born in Sherman, W. Va., son of James Nesselrode and Cora Ball Nesselrode. He worked at the mill for 38 years. He was a member of the Boyce Methodist Church.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Nesselrode at home; three sons, Paul Nesselrode and Donald Nesselrode, both of East Liverpool, and Orville Nesselrode of Sanford, N.C.; a sister, Miss Bertie Nesselrode of Parkersburg and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Ronald Rea. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Retired Teacher's Rites Set At Wooster

Services for Mrs. Cora Henry Savage, 91, of Wooster, a retired East Liverpool school teacher, were held this afternoon at the McConnell Funeral Home in Wooster. The Rev. Stanley H. Mullen, pastor of the Wooster Methodist Church, officiated and burial was to be in Wooster Cemetery.

Mrs. Savage died Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. at the Horn Convalescent Home at Wooster, where she had been a patient seven years.

She was born in Zanesfield, Logan County, Sept. 2, 1869, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry. Her husband, Arthur J. Savage, died in 1953. She was a member of the Wooster Methodist Church.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Donald Parker of Wooster and two grandchildren.

Earl Havelock

Earl L. Havelock, 51, a native of Wellsville, died Thursday morning at 9:30 in the Veterans Hospital.

Franklin Unit To Meet

LISBON — A program on painting plaques will be presented at a meeting of the Franklin Township Home Demonstration Group Tuesday from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Cora Mae Treffinger in Millport. Members will take a coverdish, table service, paints, foil pie tins and plastic doilies, according to Miss Julia Ann Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

Will Return To Jobs

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Officials of the Miami Cabinet Division of the Philip Carey Manufacturing Co. here have declined comment on the decision of striking workers to return to their jobs. The strikers, members of the United Auto Workers Local 68, voted Tuesday night to go back to work. They walked out April 18, 1960, beginning the violence-marked strike.

County Board Field Totals 3

L. Olan Sanor of near New Alexander in West Township filed today with the Election Board to seek his second full term on the County Board of Education at the Nov. 7 general election.

A farmer and president of the district Farm Bureau Council in his neighborhood, he also is commander of the North Georgetown American Legion Post.

Sanor originally was named to the County Board to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Roger Stafford of West Township. Sanor once served on the West Local School District Board of Education, which was dissolved when a section of the area was transferred to the administration of Stark County schools.

Sanor is the third county board candidate to file this week. Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers entered Wednesday for a new term. Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia R.D. 2 filed for a board seat Tuesday. One of the incumbents, Ben Weingart of Leetonia, announced in July he would not seek a new term.

One new East Liverpool area candidate was among the seven new other filings listed today by the Election Board. He is Guy V. Dugman of Lisbon St., seeking a Liverpool Township trustee post.

Four others filed for trustee posts and two entered for school board seats. The trustee candidates and the townships in which they are running: Howard McKarns, Franklin; Carey A. Houlette, former member of the Election Board, Fairfield Township; Forrest A. Stallsmith, Unity, and Ralph Cusick, Madison.

Milton E. Steiner entered for the United Local Board of Education. Virgil Y. Blosser filed for the school board in the Columbiana Village Exempted District.

County Farm Council Planning Group Meets

LISBON — Twenty attended a meeting of the planning committee of the Columbiana County Agriculture Council Thursday night in the county extension offices.

Plans were discussed for meetings on "Ohio's Future" on a countywide and statewide basis, sponsored by county extension offices and other interested groups.

Plans also were made for an East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting this fall, in which the Chamber will act as host to farmers in the vicinity. The possibility of the Salem Chamber holding a similar event also was discussed.

Three countywide meetings will be held, beginning in November, to discuss regional planning problems.

Herman L. Reuter, chairman of the council, presided. Representatives were present from the East Liverpool Chamber, St. Clair Development Association and East Liverpool Planning Commission.

ed those on an outstanding traffic warrant, it was reported.

The family was notified by friends from Port Homer who had learned of the murder through a telephone call from the victim's companions.

Mosser had left Port Homer July 16, 1958, with Riley Tice, a post office employee in Sacramento, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Tice of Goose Run Rd., and William Springer, a serviceman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Springer of Port Homer.

The murdered man's father called the Los Angeles sheriff's office for verification.

Mosser was a veteran of the Air Force and served in Japan. Among his effects, found at a downtown Los Angeles garage in a battered car, was a letter to his parents that had never been mailed.

"He never was in any trouble as far as I know," his father said. "I don't think he was in on the robbery. He never stole anything in his life that I know of. When he saw something he wanted, he always asked for it."

The dead man's employer, Don Goddard, said the victim often slept in the bowling alley after cleaning up in the early morning.

The family was told of the tragedy by Mr. and Mrs. Tice and Mrs. Truman Keeler. California police had notified Riley Tice, cousin of the victim, and he had phoned his parents.

The victim's family resided in Port Homer until a few years ago. The son entered the Air Force after leaving Irondale High School in 1954. He was a member of the school football team.

Mosser was born in Port Homer Dec. 3, 1936, son of Albert and Dena Tice Mosser. Besides the parents, he leaves a sister, Miss Sandra Sue Mosser, three brothers, William F. Mosser, Gerald W. Mosser and Robert C. Mosser, all at home; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Tice of Chester, and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Mosser of Toronto R. D.

Funeral services will be scheduled later, after the remainder of the victim's body is found. The Rev. Dominic Prosperi of the Church of the Nazarene of Stratton will conduct rites at the Clarke Funeral Home in Toronto. Burial will be in Sugar Grove Cemetery near Toronto.

County Farm Council Planning Group Meets

LISBON — Twenty attended a meeting of the planning committee of the Columbiana County Agriculture Council Thursday night in the county extension offices.

Plans were discussed for meetings on "Ohio's Future" on a countywide and statewide basis, sponsored by county extension offices and other interested groups.

Plans also were made for an East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting this fall, in which the Chamber will act as host to farmers in the vicinity. The possibility of the Salem Chamber holding a similar event also was discussed.

Three countywide meetings will be held, beginning in November, to discuss regional planning problems.

Herman L. Reuter, chairman of the council, presided. Representatives were present from the East Liverpool Chamber, St. Clair Development Association and East Liverpool Planning Commission.

handed him a 313-5 vote victory. The Labor party abstained in the vote on the government motion. A Laborite amendment amounting to a vote of censure was defeated 318-209.

The House of Lords also rejected the amendment 88-17, then approved the government's motion without a formal vote count.

Thus Parliament endorsed Macmillan's move to end Britain's traditional isolation from the continent and give the island kingdom a chance at the prosperity the Common Market has brought its members—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Britain's decision promises to set in motion an economic realignment affecting nearly every country in Western Europe. Several of Britain's partners in the seven-nation European Free Trade Association set up by Britain to rival the Common Market plan to follow London's lead and line up with the market nations.

The British government will apply for membership next week, but this does not commit Britain to join. Talks on terms of membership will probably not get under way until October, and they are expected to be long.

Blake Named New Fireman

Robert Blake, Chester High School teacher, was named a regular Chester fireman Thursday night, after completing a one-year probation period.

About 19 attended a meeting of the firemen at which Donald Hisam was placed on the honorary firemen's list at his request after serving over 30 years.

Firemen accepted the resignation of Harry Williams who cited work reasons.

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the Catholic Men's Club of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church for use on a new wall being erected at the church.

Clarence L. Enns, secretary-treasurer, said bills and receipts are not all in, and a report on the annual fair is not ready.

Rex Cowey and Jerrold Wilson was named to obtain prices for uniforms which firemen can wear to parades. Firemen are to purchase their own uniforms.

Percy Willison, Lee Haney and George Allison were appointed to represent the department at a meeting of the Park Commission and other groups to plan a bazaar and park dedication in September.

Lunch was served by Willison and committee. Chief William Glover presided. Next meeting is Sept. 7.

various crafts to be hired to take care of increased orders and contemplated production," it said.

Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell was the only firm singled out by name in the IBOP's account. It said Laughlin has requested 16 additional kilnhands. A Laughlin spokesman termed his company's upturn in business as "mild."

Several other companies are in need of handlers, jiggersmen, casters, packers and various other tradesmen and tradeswomen," the IBOP said.

If the job openings are not filled by journeymen, apprentices or temporary employees can be placed on the payrolls, the IBOP pointed out. IBOP members holding withdrawal or honorary membership cards are eligible to fill the vacancies by depositing their cards or transferring membership into the local unions having jurisdiction over the operations, the IBOP said.

It asked local union secretaries to check unemployment rolls and give notice to members who might wish to take jobs.

The present level of operations in several East Liverpool area plants is "on a much higher scale than in the 1958 and 1959 recessions," the international union said.

Manufacturers conceded that in several instances production is up from the same time in 1960 and 1959, but referred to the gains as comparatively mild.

The IBOP said it will "co-operate in every manner in assisting in obtaining competent skilled and unskilled labor." IBOP members seeking work should get in touch with international headquarters immediately, the union said.

A migration of East Liverpool tradesmen to the W. S. George Co. plant at East Palestine, recently reopened under lease to the Royal China Co. at Sebring, was one of the factors seen behind the lack of journeymen in East Liverpool.

Royal China took over the George plant to help fill a big order for premium ware.

Journymen who were low on the seniority scale at area plants have migrated to the East Palestine concern, where they feel they will be assured steadier work because of higher seniority in the recently-reopened plant.

And in post-World War II years, there has been a steady migration of potters to jobs in steel mills at Midland. Coupled with retirement of veteran workers, these factors were seen as causing the sudden need for journeymen.

County Buys New Mower

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday purchased a new mower for the county highway department at a cost of $5,079.20.

A Topeka mower was purchased from Howard E. Adams of Salineville. The price includes a trade-in of a Centaur mower. An International tractor with an Anderson mowing attachment also was purchased from the Kibler Equipment Co. of the Columbiana-New Waterford Rd. for $2,970, low bid of three.

In other business, the board approved to two building plats. They are Brookwood Manor, north of Salem in Section 29 of Perry Township, consisting of 10.4 acres of 20 lots owned by Bill and Evelyn Albright, and Lakeview Heights Allotment at Guilford Lake, 5.8 acres of 11 lots in the northeast part of Section 11 in Hanover Township, owned by James and Annae Mae Gurley.

Payment of $29.50 for 59 dogs killed in East Liverpool in July was authorized.

Commissioners will meet Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

VFW At Wellsville

Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 will meet Tuesday night at 8.

Plans will be discussed for a family corn roast to be held in September. James Daniels, commander, will preside.

A banquet honoring Bill Bowles, department commander, will be held Thursday night at the post home. Mrs. Jane Judge is president Saturday at 6:30 p. m. at Toledo Post 9445.

Industry Boy Held

In Theft Of Revolver

A 13-year-old boy arrested Thursday for discharging firearms in the area of the Midland Sportsmen's Club has admitted the theft of a weapon from an industry man's truck, Constable Bernard Zlatovich of Ohio Township said today.

The Club in Ohio Township had complained that the boy had been discharging firearms in that area.

Later, the boy admitted stealing a .22-caliber target revolver last April from the glove compartment of a truck of Dick McHendricks of Industry, the constable said.

The youngster was turned over to Industry police and taken to Allencrest Juvenile Home for a hearing.

The boy showed Zlatovich a woodpile where the weapon had been hidden.

The present tax is the lowest of a series of four proposed or enacted since 1958. It sets a rate of one-half of one per cent, which amounts to 50 cents on each $100 of earnings or other income.

The first tax, enacted in the spring of 1958, was rejected in the November election that year, also in an initiative move organized by Trades Council. It set a rate of 80 cents per $100.

The tax was collected for six months, netting a total of a little over $150,000. The second tax was enacted by the same Council in 1959, but with a proviso it would not go into effect until the voters approved. It was turned down in November 1959.

The third tax vote came about in 1959 when a Citizens Committee circulated a petition to get the question on the ballot. It also was rejected.

The present ordinance was enacted Dec. 29, but vetoed Jan. 6 by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. It went into effect Jan. 27 when Council passed the ordinance over the mayor's veto.

Father, Son To Face Jury In Hijacking

came to a halt, its landing gear and an engine damaged, its pressurized cabin punctured by the gunfire.

Quickly, ambulances, baggage trailers, trucks and cars with armed men encircled the damaged plane. In the wild scene, mechanics tinkered with the plane, still stalling, every minute valuable. Spectators pushed close.

At 12:55 p.m., a back door to the plane opened and the stewards, Tony Besset and Lois Carnay alighted. Robert Six, the Continental president, embraced them joyfully.

Minutes later, the other four crewmen alighted as the FBI agent-in-charge, Francis Crosby went aboard to negotiate with the gun-wielding Bearden, growing more nervous and more dangerous as the minutes passed.

Aboard with Crosby were the Bearden, Gilman and the other three passenger hostages, Pfc. Truman H. Cleveland of St. Augustine, Fla.; Jack Casey, a Continental Airlines employee from Houston; and Luis L. Erives of Los Angeles.

As the negotiations progressed, Gilman and Crosby, with their eyes, made their plans known to one another. Suddenly, Bearden dropped his eyes. Gilman slugged him—a vicious knockout blow.

At the same instant, Crosby overpowered the Bearden boy.

At 1:48 p.m., the hostages stepped from the plane.

A relieved officer said it was all over.

At their arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Henry Clifton the Bearden entered pleas of innocence. They were charged with transportation of a stolen plane and kidnapping.

"I'd like to plead not guilty, currently," the elder Bearden told Clifton. The boy, Cody, nodded affirmatively to the commissioner's question if that went for him, too.

Temper flared and words grew bitter in Congress as clerks rushed reports of the hijacking to senators and representatives.

It wasn't until Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., told the Senate of the capture of the Bearden that senators generally decided Cuba might not be involved.

Monroney made his announcement after conferring with Najeeb E. Halaby, FAA administrator. Halaby's Federal Aviation Agency authorized commercial airline pilots and crews to carry guns to prevent any future hijackings.

The FAA action drew critical response from the Air Line Pilots Association and airline spokesmen displayed little enthusiasm for the plan.

Most congressional reaction to the incident stemmed from the belief that Cuba was involved. Tempers calmed when it became known that the hijacking team was an American father and his son.

Continental airlines said Thursday night it devised four plans to foil the air pirates. These included shooting the tires off, which finally did the trick; an offer to trade a DC7 for the jet 707, and for Air Force jets to "shoot the nose off the plane" if it became airborne.

A fourth plan was made but was discarded. The other three plans had FBI approval.

Steubenville's Entry Continues In Legion Event

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Gehlert, the only team yet unbeaten in the Ohio American Legion Baseball Tournament, can win the championship Saturday by protecting that record in one more game.

Cincinnati will meet the winner of today's Steubenville-Hudson contest. If Cincinnati loses, a second game will be required to crown the kings and send them on to the Princeton, Ind., regional later this month.

The three teams are what's left of a field of 14 that entered state tournament play last Monday.

Cincinnati has won four straight games in the double-elimination tourney. Steubenville has a 3-1 record, and Hudson is 4-1.

Thursday's play saw four more teams ousted, among them Lima, the defending champs. Others suffering their second losses were Marion, Archbold and Warren.

Lima lost 5-1 to Hudson; Marion fell 9-1 before Cincinnati and then 10-9 before Hudson in a 10-inning thriller; and Archbold was defeated 6-2 by Warren, which itself was then eliminated by Steubenville, 15-2.

Patrolman Tells Dramatic Plane Story

One Punch Did The Trick

By MARK DEERING and DON LUND

El Paso Times Staff Writers
Written for The Associated Press
EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Leonard W. Gilman, 43, played the hero's role Thursday in subduing two gunmen who hijacked a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 and held local and federal police at bay for almost 10 hours.

"The elder gunman was saying, 'I would sooner commit suicide than to turn myself into the authorities,'" Gilman said in an interview Thursday night. "He seemed to be getting hysterical."

"That's when I made my move. I caught him behind the ear and threw a full nelson on him to keep him from getting to the two guns in his hip pocket."

Francis Crosby, FBI agent in charge of the El Paso office, who was in the plane at the time, jumped the younger hijacker and it was all over.

Gilman, associate deputy regional commissioner in charge of operations of the U.S. Border Patrol out of San Pedro, Calif. told this story:

"When the two gunmen took over the plane they found out I was an officer and they searched me immediately for a gun. After that they kept a close watch on me."

"One of the women became hysterical and began crying. I told her we would see that she got off all right. That's when I talked the hijackers into letting the passengers off."

"I volunteered to be a hostage if they let the rest of the passengers go. When they started to take off from the field, they made the hostages move to the middle compartment of the plane. Then they made us fasten our safety belts."

"Then those on the outside of the aircraft began shooting at the tires."

Gilman said the elder hijacker became scared at the shooting and pointed his gun at the head of one of the people in the plane.

"His reaction to the shooting outside was one of the more dangerous moments on the plane."

"The boy didn't talk at all but the father was very talkative. I talked the father into taking the gun from his boy."

"I tried to appeal to him as a father. I said the boy didn't know what he was doing and didn't have any business with the gun."

"The father said he was fed up with the American government. He said he was going to Cuba and become a naturalized Cuban citizen."

Gilman said he told the father that only a criminal or a Communist would do what he was doing and make his son help him.

"He refused to answer me when I asked if he was a Communist. He denied vehemently that he was involved with Castro, but he said he had friends in Cuba."

"I asked him if his wife knew what he was doing and he said she did and she would join him in Cuba later."

"We got the father busy talking and I heard some of the hostages slip out the window (at the back of the plane)."

Later Crosby and Gilman tried ond-floor bedroom, the children ransacked a wardrobe and dresser, emptying the contents on the floor, and then used a bottle of nail polish to smear a gas heater and a wall mirror and write on the wall, police said.

Meanwhile, a belated report was filed with police Thursday at 5 p.m. in a theft and vandalism at another Gaddes St. home.

Mrs. Anna Sanford reported her home was entered sometime between May 31 and July 30 by intruders who stole a woman's gold watch and a pearl necklace and destroyed an alligator handbag. The interior of the home was vandalized, she reported.

Wife, Friends Are Shocked By Hijacking

COOLIDGE, Ariz. (AP) — The fantastic scheme of an itinerant car salesman and his teen-age son to swipe a $5 million jet airliner and fly it to Cuba shocked their family and friends.

"Ordinary, likeable citizens," was the consensus of Arizona acquaintances of Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cody, 18. The two are held at El Paso, Tex., on federal charges of hijacking a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet and kidnapping its 67 passengers and six crew members.

Most puzzled of all by Thursday's escapade was Bearden's wife, Mary Ruth, 36.

She told newsmen in her modest Coolidge home her husband never mentioned Cuba, expressed no interest in airplanes, jet or otherwise, and didn't have any guns around the house.

He's been such a good husband and a good father. He never runs around. He plays tennis with me and the children all the time."

She said Cody is a regular boy who likes to sing and play the guitar and is popular with girls. Cody and his brother, Daryl, 15, often chopped cotton for farmers in the area, she said.

The couple has two other children, Jimmy 7, and Joni, a 14-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Bearden said she knew her husband had a criminal record, "but I don't think it is important."

"I'm married to him and I do owe my loyalty to him. I will stick by him."

The Knits are News: Olsens Ready-to-wear department has just received the latest styles in Italian flat knits, beautifully and dramatically sculptured by "Butte Knit". They have many new styles including the ever popular basic sheath. This silhouette is easy, relaxed, and untrimmed. Tailored smartly with a jewel or bateau neckline, long sleeves, and a slim sheath skirt, nipped in at the waist with a self belt. The perfect dress to match with all your accessories for every occasion.

The ease of elegance . . . superbly interpreted in a dress and jacket. Softly molded dress enhanced with a jewel neckline, short sleeves, and a slim sheath skirt. The three-quarter sleeve box jacket features a large tailored collar. Styled in 100% wool knit in sizes 8-20. These are dresses that need jewelry, that give a woman the chance to experiment with jewelry. Priced at 24.79 up.

The newest most exciting, beautiful wearable, exciting, irresistible fashions on the scene are jewelry. Ready-to-wear trends frame a perfect showcase for jewelry. The new styles need jewelry for identity, for excitement, for glamour.

The jewelry this fall, looks precious . . . the precious look of gold, real, beautiful, ladylike. The biggest single item is the pin. It is the passion of every fashion conscious woman. And the excitement is not "A" pin . . . or any special kind of pin . . . but pins of all kinds. Olsen's has many different motifs . . . the floral or leaf pin, a whimsical bug or bird, or a variety of fruit. In the precious look of gold for only 94c. A beautiful pin at the neckline of a collarless neckline of a new simple dress looks fresh, bright, and beautiful.

Charms have become a sentimental staple, something important has happened to charms to give them real fashion importance. They are big, big, big. They are flat, round, spherical. They are stone studded, whimsical, just plain beautiful. Olsen's jewelry others against making a mistake about Russian firmness.

"Of course the Soviet government would prefer not to proceed to conclude a peace treaty without participation of the Western powers," Moscow's note said.

"It would sincerely welcome a change in the position of the Western powers in the direction of constructive joint action with the U.S.S.R. in the matter of a German peace treaty."

The note, which was signed personally Thursday by Khrushchev, recalled that the German problem was up for discussion at the ill-fated summit conference in Paris May 16, 1960.

The conference could not take place, it said, "as a result of the provocative action of the former government of the U.S.A. toward the Soviet Union."

This referred to the incident of the U2 reconnaissance plane of U.S. pilot Francis Gary Powers which was shot down over the Soviet Union on May 1, 1960.

Record 200 Cars Set In Championship Bid

BRIDGEHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)

A record-breaking entry list of 200 cars will see action Saturday and Sunday in the Sports Car Club of America national championship racing meet at the Bridgehampton race circuit.

Four races on Saturday will be capped by the Rickenbacker trophy race, a 72.25-mile grind for the big production cars.

On Sunday there will be three races, climaxed by the Vanderbilt Cup. The Vanderbilt Cup, dating back to the pioneer days of auto racing, will go to one of approximately 40 formula junior cars. These are single seat open-wheel racers using engines from small European sedans.

Miss Helen Couch Weds James Mutchler Of Genoa

Miss Helen Couch chose a full-length gown of antique ivory bouquet taffeta when she became the bride of James Mutchler Saturday at 12 o'clock noon at St. Alloysius Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Couch, 754 Minerva St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mutchler of Genoa, Ohio.

Fr. Anthony Esposito, assistant pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of palms and ferns along with sprays of white carnations and lavender asters. Thomas Mutchler and John Mutchler, brothers of the bridegroom, were acolytes.

Mrs. James O'Reilly, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of nuptial music. Her husband sang "Panis Angelicus" during the Communion service. The men's and boys' choir sang "Ave Maria" for the offertory and "On This Day, Oh, Beautiful Mother" when the bride placed her bouquet before the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was designed with a fitted bodice, appliqued with hand-clipped Chantilly lace. The deep, crescent neckline was etched with cut crystals and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt, accented with appliques of lace, crystals and pearls, formed a double-puff bustle, which cascaded into a chapel train. She observed the traditions.

Her fingertip veil of antique French silk illusion was caught to a princess crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and lavender roses heightened with stephanotis and satin streamers.

The couple carried prayer books and rosary beads, gifts of her grandmother, Mrs. Helen Couch.

Miss Sue Schmidbauer was maid of honor and wore a gown of orchid silk organza adorned with Chantilly floral motifs. A matching Dior bow caught to a tiny face veil completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and lavender roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Couch, sister of the bride; Miss Pat Mutchler, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Sandra Parrish of Caldwell and Miss Charlene Lanning.

They were attired in costumes identical to that of the maid of honor. Their bouquets were formed of lavender-tinted carnations and white roses.

Dave Couch, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Ron Ackerman and Bob Ackerman, cousins of the bridegroom, and Ben Stokes and Dave Vance.

Peggy and Maria Musuraca, flower girls, wore orchid embroidered organza dresses, featuring full skirts, along with bandeaus of white asters. The carried spray baskets of white asters and ferns. Tony Vendetti, ringbearer, carried a satin pillow trimmed with streamers of lily-of-the-valley.

The mother of the bride chose a white lace sheath, over pink taffeta, fashioned with a pink chiffon sash and matching jacket. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige lace dress with long-sleeved jacket. White orchid corsages complemented their attire.

A brunch for the bridal party and out-of-town guests followed at the Travelers Hotel.

A reception for 400 was held in the evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A four-tier cake centered the buffet table. A miniature bridal couple highlighted a dish arrangement of white carnations and lavender asters.

Aides were Mrs. Teresa Monaco, Mrs. Marguerite Cronin, Mrs. Ann Branchetti, Mrs. Mary Monaco, Mrs. Charles Coleman, Mrs. Mildred Furrer and Mrs. Ann Allison.

Guests were from Orlando, Fla.; Canton, Youngstown, Warren, Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo, Columbiana, Canfield, Wellsville, Maumee, Warrensville, Perrysburg, Caldwell, Wooster, Alquippa, Midland, Monaca, Ambridge and Chester.

For an undisclosed honeymoon, the bride wore a floral print of blue and white, which she designed, along with white accessories.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School and attended Youngstown University. She is employed as proofreader for the State Highway Department in Columbus.

Her husband was graduated in 1957 from Lake High School and will be graduated this month from Ohio State University with a degree in agricultural education. He is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Lambda Fraternity.

Twenty-eight attended the rehearsal dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson Kind of Minerva St. Mrs. Ralph Musuraca and Mrs. Richard Clark were aides.

The prospective bride and bridegroom presented their attendants with gifts. The bridesmaids received white gloves and opalite pendants. Stuffed animals and opalite pendants were given to the flower girls. The ringbearer received a tacklebox. The best man and ushers were presented with monogrammed key chains.

The newlyweds will reside in Columbus until after his graduation.

Animal Experiments Humane

"I think it absolutely sinful and brutal to experiment on conscious animals. Men who do this are brutes."

We get an occasional letter like this so here are the facts. To attempt a painful procedure on a conscious animal would be ridiculous. Think of trying to perform an operation on a writhing, agonized animal! One reason—perhaps the main scientific reason—for giving a person or an animal an anesthetic is to produce muscle relaxation so that the surgeon can operate. Operations on animals are conducted exactly as they are on humans. Don't be taken in by sensational talk about brutality in the laboratory. "It ain't so."

Q. I have heard that antibiotics are used to keep poultry and fish from spoiling. Is it safe to eat food preserved in this way?

A. Soaking poultry and fish in a weak antibiotic solution retards the growth of bacteria responsible for spoilage. The gain in "life" of the foodstuff isn't spectacular but is enough to make marketing more profitable. There is a drawback, however. Antibiotics won't kill certain resistant disease-producing germs and may, in fact, speed their growth while acting against the bacteria causing spoilage. If such food is not thoroughly cooked, someone is likely to get a good case of "food poisoning."

Q. Which is better, eating breakfast at the regular time or during the mid-morning coffee break?

A. The only scientific experiment on the subject with which we are familiar shows that if you must choose between an adequate breakfast and a mid-morning snack, the breakfast wins hands down.

Golfer For 36 Years

Gets Country Club Cup

Mrs. John E. Mountford, 913 McKinnon Ave., shows the cup she received at the Guest Day observance Wednesday at the Country Club.

Mrs. Mountford, golfer for 36 consecutive years, received the trophy for "inspiring sportsmanship."

She was runner-up for the club championship six times and won the July cup in 1943. In September that year, she made a hole-in-one. Mrs. J. Donald Thompson made the presentation.

Winners for the 18-hole guest flight were Mrs. Leonard Shields, low gross, 107; Mrs. Harold Watson, second low gross, 110, and Mrs. Martha Fenton, low net, 89.

Home flight awards for 18 holes went to Mrs. William Pickin, low gross, 83; Mrs. William Kelly, second low, 96, and Mrs. C. A. Gerace, low net, 54.

Nine-hole home flight was captured by Mrs. E. T. Martin, low gross, 55; Mrs. R. J. Kinsey, second low gross, 56, and Mrs. Okey Ludwig, low net, 36.

Special awards went to Mrs. Kinsey, closest to the pin, 8 feet; Mrs. R. V. Beatty, 18-hole putting, with 30, and Mrs. D. E. Beatty and Mrs. J. D. Thompson, tied for 9-hole putting, with 17.

Some 96 attended the noon luncheon. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Donald Schreckengost were co-chairman. The committee consisted of Mrs. George Mueller, Mrs. T. H. Kashuba, Mrs. Robert Bernstorf, Mrs. Richard W. Lee, Mrs. Richard Mayers and Mrs. Robert Dunlap.

3 Graduate Nurses Given Certificates

Three graduates of City Hospital School of Nursing have been granted certificates as registered nurses after passing examinations held June 19-27 at Columbus. They are:

Miss Ann V. Treleven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Treleven, 1061 St. George St.; Miss Mary A. Merlo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Merlo of Niles, and Mrs. Rose A. Kinne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mahlovich of Industry.

School Staff Set At Lisbon

LISBON — Supt. Russell Armistage said the school staff for the Lisbon school system has been completed for the fall term, barring late resignations. He announced assignments.

At McKinley School, Miss Della Wetzel will be full-time principal. The kindergarten will be under the direction of Mrs. Mary Gee and Mrs. Judy Bryan. Miss Nettie McPherson will have one section of the first grade and Mrs. Janet Watson of Salineville will teach the section added to that building.

Second grade will see two new teachers, Miss Nancy Shattuck and Mrs. Sandra Rowan. Mrs. Rowan will be new. In the third grade, Mrs. Arlene Homan is returning and Mrs. Grace Smith has moved from the second to fourth grade. Howard Lehman will teach fifth grade on a full-time basis. The remedial reading program that has been his part-time assignment will be discontinued because of crowded conditions. Mrs. Sally Workman, formerly of Mansfield, will teach the sixth grade.

At Lincoln School, Jack Lewis is the new principal with the following new members of his staff: Mrs. Sandra Borrow, sixth grade; Miss Barbara Davis, fourth grade; Mrs. Patricia Fleming, language arts, and Robert Firestone, social studies, both in Grades 7 and 8. He will also direct the elementary school football program. Mrs. Mable Pike, a substitute last year, will teach one section of the fourth grade. Mrs. Betty Lepley and Carl Flittercraft will move from the high school to the seventh and eighth grades. Mrs. Lepley will teach language arts and Flittercraft match and science.

Most of the high school staff will be returning this fall. Mrs. Carolyn Dotson of Columbiana will teach home economics, Ivan Dye of Salineville will teach the advanced mathematics and will serve as one of the varsity coaches. Miss Edna Russell of New Matamoras will teach English. The position of librarian has been filled and will be announced.

2 Put On Probation In Trespassing Case

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Roger Hearrell, 18, of Austintown, who lost the sight of his right eye when he was shot while trespassing at Meander Reservoir, was placed on probation until he is 21 by Juvenile Court Judge Harold S. Rickert Sr. Thursday.

Thomas Veauthier, 18, of Youngstown, who was with Hearrell in a boat, was given a similar penalty.

Hearrell was shot last Nov. 14 by reservoir patrolman Elwood Ressler, who committed suicide two weeks later. Ressler maintained he shot in self defense after the youth reached toward a gun in the boat.

"I can't hold you responsible for Ressler's taking his own life," Judge Rickert told Hearrell. "However, if no unlawful act had been committed the wheels would not have been set in motion that resulted in your being blind in one eye and Ressler dead."

$5,677 Paid County In Court Clerk Fees

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reported a total of $5,677.03 paid the county treasurer in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department during July.

The clerk paid $6,034.92 to the state treasurer from the collection of sales and use taxes, and $42,876.58 to the state treasurer from the collection of dealers' tax, the county receiving $497.07 for its 1 per cent poundage. The state also received $1,211.55 for car title fees.

There were 71 civil cases filed in court and the title department issued 3,303 auto titles, 29 duplicate titles, 702 memorandums, 7 duplicate memorandums, 1,287 notations of liens, 1,169 cancellation of liens and 1,047 acknowledgments.

There were 355 titles issued for new vehicles, representing a value of $1,014,224.61, Stacey said.

Marine Applications Reported Doubled

Marine Sgt. Robert J. Barnes of the East Liverpool Recruiting Station said that although the number of applicants for enlistment in the Marine Corps has doubled in this area, his office will continue to accept all applicants who can meet the physical and mental requirements of the corps.

Sgt. Barnes is available to interview prospective applicants at the City Hall from 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on Tuesdays and Fridays each week.

Dividend Declared

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shareholders of the Eagle-Picher Co., a complex of mining, chemical and manufacturing divisions, can expect a quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share Sept. 8.

Rocket Runs Into Trouble

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A trouble-shooter rocket ran into trouble itself—and ended up in the South Pacific ocean instead of a polar orbit.

Discoverer XXVII was launched Thursday at this big rocket base, destined for a few days' orbiting, and it was hoped, a recovery of its ejectable capsule near Hawaii.

It carried special instruments to check performance of various parts of the two-stage rocket. Discoverer XXVII went awry at launching and had to be blown up. Scientists had hoped No. 28 would help them learn why.

Instead, No. 28 suffered just as dismal a fate—although it took longer. The launch seemed perfect, the first stage dropped free as planned, and the second stage fired.

But, 90 minutes after launch, instruments disclosed that it hadn't entered orbit. Such portions as survived the fierce friction of re-entry into the earth's atmosphere probably splashed into the South Pacific, experts said.

No. 28, billed as a "reliability test vehicle," probably accomplished some of its assignments. Some of the performance-check instruments radioed back readings to the earth, and they may help scientists in future launches.

Air Force technicians say it will take some time to check the telemetered data to see what happened.

Blacktop Movie Shown Mayors

LISBON — Donald Bair, representative of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt, Inc., showed films on blacktopping and street repair when the Columbiana County Mayors Association met Thursday at Timberlane's in Salem.

Each brought a guest and those present included Mayor Ralph Kennedy, president, and Councilman Dan Cullinan of Leetonia, Mayor Dean Cramer and Service Director James Feiler of Salem, Mayor Ernest Phillips and Councilman Ray Arsuffi of Summitville, Mayor Dean Stockman and Street Commissioner Dick Roberts of Lisbon, Mayor Irwin Calvin and Street Commissioner Don Hisey of Columbiana, Mayor Donald Vignon and Street Commissioner Robert Bertolette of Washingtonville and Mayor Kenneth Leishman and Street Commissioner Pete Grollow of Salineville.

Next meeting is Sept. 7 with location and time to be announced.

Non-Faculty School Staffs Form Group

An Association of West Virginia School Bus Drivers and Non-teaching Personnel has been formed and a number of Northern Panhandle members were elected to offices. They are:

Corless A. Radford of Fayetteville, president; Granger Dodd of Lost Creek, first vice president; Howard J. Maine of Follansbee, second vice president; Don Miller of Craigsville, third vice president; W. T. Price of Oak Hill, secretary, and Clyde Query of Edmond, treasurer.

Trustees include Gale McClung of Summerville, three years; Brent Ritter of Bristol R.D., two years, and Dana Mewha of Wellsburg, R.D., one year.

A bylaws committee includes W. J. Price, Ralph Barber and Carmen Ground.

Next meeting is Oct. 26-27 at Clarksburg.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieters Enjoy Food While Slimming

What can send you back to over-eating in a big way — appetite, hunger or boredom? It's the latter. In hot weather the edge is off hunger, but on monotonous fare you bog down and lose your zest for slimming.

If you are like most well intentioned dieters, you do not fall off the diet ... you slip back into your old fattening ways of eating. Result — creeping pounds.

To keep your zest, plan inviting low calorie fare. You can have variety in slimming menus and stay happily within the 1,000 to 1,400 calorie allowance. This is particularly true in the summer season when vegetables and fruits are at their flavorful best.

Try an experiment. Plan to serve your favorite fruit for the dinner dessert.

THIS COULD BE ripe melon, a luscious peach, fresh pear or juice — packed fruit. Really taste each delicious morsel of that fruit. Taste it on the tongue, with the taste buds at the tip, along the sides and at the back.

There is a special reason for tasting intently. The added attention enhances taste. More important, it takes a little time for the sensation of satiety to reach the brain.

When you give the extra ingredient of attention to taste satisfaction then your appetite centers alert your brain and you feel content without overeating.

This in turn helps you to lessen your food capacity. Ah friends ... there is a potent secret — diminish your food capacity. Enjoy what you eat...but never deliberately overeat for to do so makes it easier to overeat again.

Modern food technology has made slimming trimmings available. Try some of the special foods designed for dieters. There are French - type salad dressings, with or without garlic for 3 calories per teaspoon, and a whipped mayonnaise - type dressing that furnishes a mere 6 calories per teaspoon.

Treat yourself to low calorie jams, jellies and marmalades on the market — 3 calories per teaspoon. For sweetening beverages and summer fruits, try a non-nutritive sweetener. Low calories soft drinks come in all flavors.

A READER has sent along a special recipe for you to use on summer salads. Here it is:

1 cup V-8 tomato juice; 1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar; garlic, if desired; 1/2 teaspoon fine herbs, and pinch salt & pepper.

Mix and let stand a few hours. This is a really good salad dressing, and for almost no calories.

And now, your dietitian is off on vacation. I'll be back with you at the end of the month. In the meantime ... happy slimming to ward that younger dress size.

Penalties Given 5 In Lake Cases

Three Newell boys and two from Alliance were fined Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for violating regulations at Guilford Lake.

The two from Alliance, 13 and 14, were fined $10 each for reckless operation of a motor boat and were barred from the lake for a year. Two younger boys were in their boat when cited. This is the first year 3.5-horsepower motors have been allowed on Guilford Lake.

The Newell boys, 11, 12 and 14, were fined $5 each for swimming in an area other than beaches designated by the Ohio Division of Parks.

The five youths were cited by Walter Burbick, park manager, and Patrolmen Roy Painter and Winston Lora of Hanover Township. Burbick said there is no excuse for these violations and that parents should see that the children play legally around the lake for the youngsters' safety.

Guilford had its first drowning this year since 1953.

The poet Robert Browning (1812-89) put the legend of the Pied Piper into verse.

Ambulance Discontinued

Citing insurance costs as too high, the Glenmoor Firemen's Association Thursday night approved plans to abolish ambulance service.

The department has furnished ambulance service in emergencies, such as transporting injured persons to a hospital after traffic mishaps, or those injured in other accidents.

The department's ambulance will be converted to a squad car. Members authorized payment of $5 dues to the Columbiana County Firemen's Association.

The group will attend a meeting of the Tri-State Firemen's Association Aug. 17 at Industry.

Divine Banks, president, conducted business. The meeting opened with prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance.

Ohioan Faces Charge After Traffic Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charges of manslaughter and reckless driving have been placed against Carl Nunn, 54, Silverton, in connection with the traffic death of Alvin Dratch, 25, Rossmyrne.

Dratch died Thursday night from shock and loss of blood.

Police said Nunn was trying to pass Dratch in Deer Park when the cars' bumpers locked. Dratch's car went off the road and hit a utility pole.

Speakers Set In Workshop

Kay Kluz, chairman of the United Steelworkers District 20 legislative committee at Ambridge has announced speakers for the taxation study workshop to be held Sept. 27 at the Midland Union Hall.

It is being held for Executive Board members, legislative committees, recording secretaries, staff representatives and interested members of the various district locals.

Prof. Helmut Golatz of the Pennsylvania State University and Prof. Edward Cook of the University of Pittsburgh will conduct the workshops in conjunction with the union's legislative office in Harrisburg and the International Education Department.

Prof. Golatz will be in charge of the taxation classes which will include, in addition to the broad examination of taxation, specific analysis of President Kennedy's federal tax program and Gov. Lawrence's tax program in the new school reform proposal.

Prof. Cook will discuss taxation in third class cities and boroughs and first, second and third class townships.

The program will be conducted on a "workshop" basis with a question-and-answer period. The discussions will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30, followed by a 15-minute break.

A buffet luncheon will be held from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. preceding the afternoon classes. A summation will be held from 3:30 to 4 p.m.

How To Become A Hero

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Do you yearn to be a hero in your own home?

Many a husband does, but he doesn't know how to go about it. Actually, there isn't any great secret to it. A word to the wives is usually sufficient—provided it is the right word.

The failure of most husbands to attain the stature of a household god is a failure of communication. They don't know the right way to talk to their wives.

Here are a few tested sentences bound to make you the man-of-the-household in your own living room—and also guaranteed to make every other husband in the block your mortal foe:

"I know you've had a hard day, dear. You go in and curl up with a good book. I'll cook dinner and do the dishes."

Man Selected To Draft New School Plans

B. J. McCandless of Ellwood City was elected formally as architect for the new, 10-classroom addition to South Side High School at a special meeting of the Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education Thursday night.

The $700,000 addition will house commercial rooms and standard classrooms.

The Board also passed the necessary resolutions for representatives of each of the six districts to visit Harrisburg Aug. 14 to enter into an agreement with the State School Building Authority to construct the addition.

Bonds to finance the project are sold by the state group, and the addition will be rented to the Southern Beaver County Board with the balance to be paid within 38 years.

The president or the vice president of the six districts, plus the secretary, and the president and vice president of the jointure and the secretary will attend the session.

Dr. Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said the board also authorized advertising of bids for school furniture.

David L. Wern, a faculty member, was appointed assistant football coach at South Side High, succeeding Frank Kowalski who moved to Maryland.

Next meeting is Monday night.

3 District Autoists In Palestine Cases

Three area motorists were among several fined or who forfeited bonds at County Judge Herbert Arfman's Court at East Palestine Thursday.

Jack N. Shaw, 513 Washington St., forfeited a $20 bond for failure to signal a turn. William Betz of Lisbon R. D. 5 was fined $5 and costs for operating a vehicle with a broken headlight, and John W. Shearer of Brookdale Ave., East Palestine, $5 and costs for failure to halt at an intersection.

Frank Packety of Warren was fined $100 and costs for false registration on a McAllister Dairy Co. truck.

Judge Arfman reported he heard 118 criminal cases in July and 36 civil cases. Collections totaled $3,921.

In the Bible, Jacob (Gen. 30) was famous for his 12 sons and one daughter.

"Put down that pail this very moment! No wife of mine is ever going to carry out the garbage."

"You're absolutely right, dear."

"I'm going to ask the boss for a raise today, and if he says no—then I'll ask him again tomorrow."

"Write your mother back right now, and tell her we'll be glad to have her come for a visit anytime—and stay as long as she can."

"I took out another $10,000 worth of life insurance. If anything happens to me, I want you and the kids fully protected."

"Gee, I can't stand it when most women talk baseball. But you're different. You really understand the game."

"The new dress looks swell on you, but don't you think you ought to have a new coat and a new hat to kind of set it off?"

Midland Member Returned As Beaver Kaycee President

Emeric P. Davis of Midland has been re-elected president of the Beaver Valley Council of the Knights of Columbus. He is a member of Midland Council 2008.

Others are Dr. Regis Ging of Ambridge, first vice president; Mark DeAngelis of Beaver Falls, third vice president; Stanley Rekrut of Beaver Falls, corresponding secretary; Charles Fawcett Jr. of Ambridge, treasurer; Gene Centore of Midland, warden; John Slyman of Rochester, historian, and James Melito of Ellwood City and Harry Phillips of Conway, guards.

Filling vacancies due to resignations were Elvidio Ruscitti of Aliquippa, second vice president, and Albert Barrasso of Beaver, recording secretary.

Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor of the Midland Presentation Catholic Church, will continue to serve as chaplain.

Paul Facciolo of Beaver Falls and Fawcett continue as district deputies of the 52nd and 53rd Pennsylvania Districts.

Davis said Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh will be the speaker at the valley unit's annual Columbus Day dinner and dance at Midland's St. Anthony Club, Saturday, Oct. 14. Proceeds from the charity affair will be presented to the St. Anthony School for Exceptional children at Oakmont.

The Memorial Mass and breakfast in memory of deceased members will be held Nov. 5.

The group voted to continue the Catholic advertising program through which the unit places, once a month in newspapers, the same literature prepared by the Knights of Columbus Supreme Council for distribution nationwide in newspapers and periodicals.

Plans were initiated for a bowling league for the coming season, with a tournament in March 1962.

Committees for the projects will be named at the next meeting Thursday, Aug. 24, at Midland.

they may not buy such things as motorcycles and washing machines, and that their children do not have the same rights to schooling as others.

There has been a campaign against them in the Communist press, and their names have been posted publicly.

Communist police seized the identity cards of some commuters from the suburbs Thursday. The commuters received a new paper, which barred them from the city.

The Communists have also been trying to stop the flow of refugees to the West via West Berlin. Today they contemptuously rejected U.S. objections to this effort.

Neues Deutschland, the official party daily, advised the State Department not to play Don Quixote, a reference to Cervantes' fictional Spanish knight who set out to defend the oppressed and right wrongs.

The editorial recommended attention instead to Sen. J. William Fulbright's suggestion that the Western allies close West Berlin to refugees in exchange for guarantees of the Western position in Berlin. The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that would not be much of a concession for the West since the Communists have the power to stop the refugees anyway.

Rotary Scholarship Applications Taken

The Board of Directors of the Midland Rotary Club met Thursday evening, following an outing at the club's pavilion on Murphy Hill Rd., and accepted two applications for Rotary Foundation scholarships. Charles L. Smith, president, was in charge.

Dr. Thomas Boyd presented the program during the steak fry.

Another outing will be held at the pavilion Thursday with James Migliore in charge.

Bridge Is Replaced On Rt. 558 In County

The Division 11 bridge maintenance crew of the State Highway Department has completed work on replacement of a narrow bridge on State Route 558, the Salem-East Palestine Rd.

The structure, which has been posted for one-way traffic, was located about two miles east of the junction with Route 164. Replacement was with twin arch pipes.

The bridge maintenance men expect to begin work Monday on replacement of another narrow structure on Route 558 about four miles east of the one just completed, the New Philadelphia office said.

Wreck Hurts Woman, Girl

EAST PALESTINE — A 4-year-old area girl was slammed through a windshield and her mother was also injured when the brakeless auto driven by the father smashed head-on into a large elm tree on N. Market St. Thursday at noon.

Mrs. Helen Palarie, 33, of New Liberty, a small community just south on Route 170, is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with a dislocated hip and possible internal injuries.

Jo Ann Palarie, her daughter, is in "fairly good" condition with bruises of the jaw and head and neck injuries.

Joseph Palarie, 54, told police he was headed south on the Market St. hill of Route 170 when he discovered the brakes on the 1954 sedan had failed as he passed the crest of the hill north of the city.

He swerved to cross the yard of the Robert Burns residence, but lost control when the wheels hit the curb and the car crashed into the large elm.

The girl, riding in the back seat, was hurled over the front seat and her head went through the windshield, police said. The front of the auto was damaged heavily.

Lions At Midland Plan Broom Sale

Tentative plans for the annual broom sale were discussed at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland Lions Club Thursday evening in Deramo's Restaurant. The project, with Harry Davis chairman will be held late in September.

A family picnic will be held Aug. 29 at the Atomic Boat Club in Industry with Ernest Lee chairman.

Paul Schlosser, president, presided.

An outdoor meeting will be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the club's pavilion on Murphy Hill Rd. Paul McGeehan will be program chairman.

A New Look At The Steel Picture

By BOB VOELKER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The nation's steel mills are operating at a pretty good pace. But thousands of steelworkers are out of work. Production in the second quarter of the year hovered around 70 per cent of capacity—a so-called "normal" level. Yet some 100,000 millworkers were idle, according to the United Steelworkers Union.

What is happening in this basic industry? Statistics tell part of the story.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reports the nation's mills turned out 38.5 million tons of steel in the second half of 1960 with an average employment of 400,000 hourly workers.

Production rose 16.4 per cent in the first half of this year—to 44.8 million tons—while the average number of jobs dropped to an estimated 381,000.

In other words, more steel was produced in fewer man hours.

Government figures reveal a similar trend. The Department of Labor says steel production rose 31 per cent from January to June of this year while employment rose only 11 per cent.

What's the reason?

For one thing, many workers get more job time when production goes up. This doesn't show in total employment figures.

But a bigger factor is automation. This is where the union puts most of the blame. The companies agree, but with qualifications.

Steel production is becoming streamlined. Not as much manpower is needed in the giant industry.

"This is the way it has to be," observed a spokesman for U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer.

"Efficiency has to go up because employment costs are going up all the time," he remarks.

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel, believes that technological advances have created no long-term unemployment in the steel industry.

He says loss of jobs must occur in any progressive enterprise. However, he adds, increased efficiency will create more jobs in the long run.

The USW says it is not fighting automation as such. "It's progress," remarks one union official. "And we have to have progress."

He adds, "But everyone ought to be able to share in the fruits of progress."

Steelworkers President David J. McDonald says the answer lies in reduction of the work week without a pay cut.

The trend toward higher efficiency has been going on for years.

According to the union, it took 25.7 man hours to turn out a ton of steel in 1937. By 1959, it had dropped to 11.6 man hours.

Another union statistic: In 1953 there were 1.2 billion man hours worked in the industry. By 1960, this had dropped to 900 million. The equivalent of 156,000 full-time jobs was wiped out.

Salem Youths Fined For Theft Of Beer

LISBON — Six Salem youths, all 17, were fined from $10 to $25 each at a hearing Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in connection with the theft of beer and a drinking party Saturday night.

Officials said two of the youths stole four cases of beer from the Catholic School at Salem, hiding them in an orchard near 15th St. Ext.

The group went to the site Saturday, finding two of the cases had been taken. The youths had consumed about a half of a case of beer when discovered by Salem police at a quarry outside Salem.

All the boys admitted parts in the affair and were placed on 7 p. m. curfew. The judge also ordered suspension of driver permits from 15 to 30 days.

Bolt Kills 2, Injures 10 At 83rd's Camp

CAMP A.P. HILL, Va. (AP)—Two Ohio Soldiers were killed instantly by lightning Thursday and 10 others were injured when the bolt crashed through a field kitchen tent here.

The men were all members of the 83rd Infantry Division, an Ohio Army Reserve unit on two weeks of summer active duty training at this Virginia camp. They were members of Co. I, 83rd Transportation Battalion.

Killed were Sgt. L.C. William F. Means, 23, of Marysville, and Pfc. Charles F. Stroh, 23, of Columbus.

Critically injured when the lightning bolt struck during a sudden summer storm was Pfc. Marion Main of Ashley, Ohio. He was sent to the U.S. Army hospital at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Means and Stroh were working in the mess tent and the others were gathering to eat when the lightning bolt crashed down a metal strip of the tent pole.

A rescue squad from nearby Bowling Green rushed respiration equipment to the scene and the men were evacuated to the 3rd Surgical Hospital here.

The other injured were:

1st Lt. James V. Cosimati, 32, of Columbus.

1st Lt. Lester F. Jenkins, 30, of Worthington.

2nd Lt. Michael Michie, 23, of Youngstown.

Spec. 4.C. Roy B. Bryant, 24, of Sunbury.

Titan Missile Flight Spurs Combat Stage

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The successful 5,000-mile test flight of a Titan missile has edged the intercontinental range weapon a step closer to combat readiness.

The huge 98-foot rocket covered the ocean-spanning course Thursday night, marking its path with a brightly flashing strobe light. Tracking cameras recorded the blinking light against a background of known stars. The photos will provide accurate position data.

Within a few weeks, Air Force troops are slated to launch a Titan under operational conditions from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. This will signal that the missile is ready for deployment.

The United States will then have two operational intercontinental range missiles. Atlas squadrons are being built up at bases across the western part of the country.

The Titan carried a packet of nose cone decoys in an experiment aimed at fooling enemy countermeasures and devising means of stopping similar hostile decoys.

Six Are Charged For Crime Spree

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—Six New Castle residents—four men, a woman and a teen-age girl—have been charged with pulling 12 safe-crackings and 33 burglaries.

Charges were filed Thursday against Thomas Williams, 27; Alvin K. Fennels, 27; Frank Zurasky, 28; William Klaus, 24; Betty Knight, 27, and an unidentified 18-year-old girl.

Police said the crimes were committed in the past year in Lawrence and Mercer Counties. Officers said $15,539 was taken in eight safe jobs since the first of the year.

Two were arrested on Monday. Three were picked up Thursday. Klaus is serving a term on a morals offense.

A Polite 'Fill It Up'

Meant Cash, Not Gas

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—"Fill it up," was the request of a tall, polite man at a gas station here, attendant William Richards, 26, told police.

The man, Richards said, held a pistol in his right hand and a canvas bag in his left hand.

He escaped—on foot—with $175.

Music Teacher Dies

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Services were being arranged today for Dr. J. D. Cook, 97, professor emeritus of music at Youngstown University. He died Wednesday night. He retired in 1949 after teaching music in Warren and the Mahoning Valley for 59 years.

Cause Berlin Crisis

Refugees Irritate Reds

(The spectacle of people running from the republic the Communists have created in East Germany is one that galls the Reds, a drain they would like to clog. It also adds fuel to the fire which keeps the pot of crisis aboil in Berlin. In this last of a series of articles on the background of the crisis, AP reporter John Bausman tells the story of the refugees.)

By JOHN BAUSMAN

BERLIN (AP)—For the past 12 years police of Communist East Germany have been tramping up to abandoned homes, fixing a seal on the door and preparing to auction the household goods.

They are the homes of people who left just about everything behind to flee to the West.

Since 1949, when the Communist regime was set up in Soviet-occupied Germany, more than 2,600,000 persons have come to the West. They give continued evidence of discontent with Communist rule. They are key figures in recurrent Berlin crises.

The vast majority of these refugees funnel through West Berlin, a far easier escape route than trying to cross the tightly guarded iron curtain border that divides East and West Germany.

West Berlin, still occupied by the Atlantic Allies of World War II, is an island of Western territory 110 miles inside that barbed-wire barrier. The refugee who makes his way to East Berlin has little trouble getting to the Western side via subway or elevated train. From there he is flown to West Germany, skipping border controls on the land route.

The Communists would love to close this escape route. For years the East Germans, with Soviet backing, have been seeking control of all routes to and from Berlin.

The flight of refugees makes East Germany the only modern industrial nation in the world with a declining population.

The refugees are a cross-section of life, with industrial workers and laborers forming the biggest group. There are farmers, tradesmen, housewives, students and such highly trained people as doctors, engineers and teachers.

This last group of intellectuals and experts is a small part of the total refugee flood, but one that hurts the Communists. In the six-year period from 1954 to 1960, East Germany lost 35,000 intellectuals, including 14,000 engineers and 4,000 doctors and dentists. Western sources estimate the number of patients per doctor in East Germany is up to about 1,400 compared to 700 in West Germany.

And many a skilled worker refugee has amused himself with the thought of how tough it will be for his old Communist bosses to find a replacement. Besides being an economic drain, the refugee stream is an embarrassment to the Reds. It leaves no doubt that people are dissatisfied with communism.

"We cannot strip that part of Germany of its best people. We say 'Stay as long as you can. If you can't stand it any longer, then we'll do all we can to help you,'" West German Chancellor Adenauer once declared.

One secret of successful escape is to carry little. In spot checking trains, police are always suspicious if one carries much luggage or big packages.

What happens to the possessions left behind?

They are auctioned off and the proceeds are put in a special bank account under the refugee's name.

"That's what they say they do with the money anyway," the young father said. "I don't know whether they do or not and I'm not going back to find out."

Court Clears 54 Cases For July

LISBON — Columbiana County's Common Pleas Court's two divisions handled 54 cases during July, according to a report to the Ohio Supreme Court by Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

There were 833 cases pending July 1 and 77 were filed, giving a total of 910 cases. During the month, the two judges disposed of 54, leaving 856 as of Aug. 1.

A breakdown of disposition shows 22 tried by the court, three tried by jury, seven cognovit and default judgments and 22 settled and dismissed.

A traffic point case was filed and two were disposed of during the month.

The Court of Appeals received one new case and had seven pending Aug. 1.

70 Entered County Jail In Past Month

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said a total of 70 prisoners were received at the County Jail during July, in addition to 26 confined as of July 1. Sixty-eight prisoners were released during the month, two were conveyed to state institutions and five mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 117 visitors at the jail.

A total of 2,639 meals were served at a total cost of $869.49, making the average daily expense per prisoner 99 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan said 226 papers were served, 6,526 radio transmissions were handled along with 1,208 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office in the Court-house accepted 33 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month and fees totaling $893.63 were collected.

TV Doctrine Just More Propaganda

A curious doctrine with which parents have been saturated is that it's only the already disturbed child who can be harmed by viewing programs of violence, gore and horror on TV.

Broadsiding officials keep repeating this doctrine to the millions. To make their brainwashing propaganda more impressive, they quote from experts and they can easily find gifted specialists with famous names to make quotable statements supporting this doctrine from conviction or for a fancy price.

HEARING THIS doctrine over and over again so often, many parents, even educators, incline to accept it as a fact. Yet nobody has ever proved this doctrine valid. Indeed, it's contrary to common sense.

Don't educators and parents assume that ideals and behavior of a normal child can be influenced by what he hears, sees and is otherwise exposed to? Don't conscientious parents and teachers assume they can teach the child, from very early years, to believe that certain things are right and certain other things wrong?

Don't parents teach him about selfishness, love and kindness? Don't many parents have their child attend Sunday school or church? Do they choose only the "disturbed child" for this early training?

EARLY IN THIS century, William James, the famed psychologist, said that everything to which the child responds has some effect on him — "No impression without expression."

Would any parent, knowing there's about to be a murder down the street or an orgy of slugging, stabbing or shooting, deliberately take his child, two, three, four or five, to witness such violence?

Yet this same parent may have no qualms of conscience about letting him see a number of such acts of violence on TV any day or every day. Must not this youngster suppose it is right since "Mother let me see it"?

It's the preschool child who probably is harmed most. He inclines to accept what he sees and hears. It's not drama to him, it's real.

A HUMAN LIFE must seem very cheap to him. Hardened by exposure to human suffering, how can he feel pity and sympathy? How can he believe that murder is not right?

It would be wonderful if enough parents were to write to TV stations and their advertising sponsors objecting to programs of gore and horror and begging them to present wholesome programs instead.

But only a few parents, in addition to you, will do so. Your immediate responsibility is to see that your own young child does not view TV programs you very well know are unfit for him to see.

My bulletin "How to Teach the Child Meaning of No" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Potters Will Be 'Green' . . .

"I'll be happy if we win two games this season," Bob Hedmond said as the Aug. 15 date draws closer for high schools in Ohio to launch football practice for the 1961 campaign.

Hedmond is quick to point out that he will be greeted by a group of "green" players.

"The senior crop is very small in numbers and we only have five lettermen back from last year. We will lack experience and will be using a lot of juniors and sophomores. It is tough to use inexperienced players and play in the class in which we play and expect to win," Hedmond said.

The way the new Potter grid chief talked most of the starting lineup this season will consist of Magazine Picks Ohio State . . .

THE STREET and Smith 1961 Football Yearbook is out and it picks Ohio State to win the Big 10 conference.

We can't go along with this prediction, but we have been wrong before. Iowa and Minnesota are the two teams we select and it could end up in another deadlock as was the case last season.

Potentially, Iowa and Minnesota are the two teams to beat, but Ohio State might have a chance to grab all the marbles if Warren's Paul Warfield can live up to his advance notices.

Warfield, who will be a sophomore and participating in his first season of varsity football at State, is rated as one of those "super

Potts To Lead Bowling Green . . .

SWINGING into the Mid-American conference, the magazine picks Jim Pott's Bowling Green team to finish second behind Ohio University, the same way the conference ended in 1960.

Referring to Potts, the magazine said, "The quarterback ranks are intact. Jim Potts, steady, workman-like field leader hit 62 per cent of 71 throws for 882 yards and a significant 7 TD's."

The former East Liverpool star was the Falcons No. 1 quarterback all through the 1960 campaign.

Bowling Green and Ohio U. battled for the small college championship last year, with Ohio coming out on top, 14-7.

Former Coach Pays Visit . . .

CALLED HOME by the illness of his mother in Beaver Falls, Ed Ossoski, a former coach and teacher at Westgate and the old Grant St. School, dropped in town for a visit earlier this week.

He is now athletic director at a junior high school in Pompano Beach, and the well-tanned Ossoski, who changed his name to Ed Edwards, is mighty happy in Florida.

His son, Randy, who was just a little guy when he lived in East Liverpool, is 17 now and stands 6-foot-3 and weighs in at 170.

Randy has been a regular on the Pompano High School football squad the past two seasons, confining himself to the defensive unit where he is a topnotch line-backer.

Colavito's HR Defeats Minnesota

By The Associated Press

The pitchers finally had their day in the American League Thursday, yielding only six home runs in five games, five of them in the Chicago-Cleveland contest won by the White Sox 8-6.

The only other home run was hit by Detroit's Rocky Colavito, which gave the Tigers a 2-1 triumph over Washington and narrowed the New York Yankees' first place lead over Detroit to a game and a half. The Yankees were defeated by Kansas City 6-1, with Bob Shaw holding Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and company to six hits, all singles.

Skinny Brown pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 victory over Minnesota. It was the 36-year-old right-hander's third straight shutout and extended his consecutive scoreless string to 32 innings.

Rookie Don Schwall of Boston blanked the Los Angeles Angels 4-0 with three hits for his 12th victory in 14 decisions and his sixth straight.

Brown of Baltimore and Jim Kaat of Minnesota were locked in a scoreless duel until the eighth when the Orioles scored three runs on two hits and a pair of Minnesota errors.

Detroit's Jim Bunning pitched a four-hitter against the Senators. The tall right-hander fanned six for his 12th victory, seventh in his last nine decisions.

Second baseman Jerry Lumpe, who once played for the Yankees, led the A's nine-hit assault against loser Bud Daley, a former Kansas City pitcher. Lumpe had a double and triple, scored twice and drove in a run.

The Red Sox broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Schwall and Ken McBride of the Angels, scoring all their runs in the eighth.

Bubba Phillips got the Indians off to a 4-0 lead with a grand slam homer in the first inning but the White Sox came back with two runs in each of the second, third, fourth and ninth innings. The last two tallies, which proved to be the winning runs, resulted from relief pitcher Frank Funk's wild throw on a bunt. Luis Aparicio, with a home run and two singles, led the Sox' 13-hit attack.

Pittsburgh Blasts Out Of Slump, 19-0; Reds Score 15th In Row Over Phils

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh's Puerto Rican outfielder, thinks the writers erred when they voted his teammate, Dick Groat, over him as the National League's most valuable player in 1960.

The larrapping Latin did much to further his cause Thursday night when he cracked five straight hits to lead a 24-hit onslaught against three St. Louis pitchers.

Whether Clemente wins the MVP title or not, he should, barring a catastrophe, capture the batting title. His mark of .366 is 24 points higher than that of his nearest competitor, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati.

Robinson bashed his 33rd home run as the Reds defeated Philadelphia 7-1 for their 15th victory in as many meetings with the Phillies this season. The triumph enabled the Reds to maintain their game lead over Los Angeles, which nipped San Francisco,

4-3, in 10 innings. Milwaukee defeated Chicago 5-2.

Harvey Haddix was the beneficiary of the Pirates' avalanche of runs against Al Cicotte, Bob Miller and Lindy McDaniel.

Every starting Pirate participated in the merciless slaughter. Smoky Burgess had a couple of homers and drove in six runs,

Dick Stuart had a grand slammer and batted in five runs, Bill Mazeroski had four hits, and Bill Virdon, Don Hoak and Bob Skinner had three hits apiece.

Ken Johnson, who joined the Reds July 21, pitched his second victory, spacing nine hits as Cincinnati beat Philly righthander John Buzhardt for the fifth time this season.

An error by infielder Joe Amalfitano with two out and the bases full in the 10th inning permitted pitcher Larry Sherry to score with the Dodgers' winning run. The hitter was John Roseboro, whose home run in the ninth had tied the score at 3-3. It was an error by Roseboro, earlier, that enabled the Giants to break a 2-2 deadlock with an unearned run.

Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette had a one-hit shutout until the ninth when Al Heist singled and Ernie Banks followed with his 19th home run to account for both Chicago runs. Frank Bolling had three hits and Frank Thomas had a home run for the Braves.

An error by infielder Joe Amalfitano with two out and the bases full in the 10th inning permitted pitcher Larry Sherry to score with the Dodgers' winning run. The hitter was John Roseboro, whose home run in the ninth had tied the score at 3-3. It was an error by Roseboro, earlier, that enabled the Giants to break a 2-2 deadlock with an unearned run.

Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette had a one-hit shutout until the ninth when Al Heist singled and Ernie Banks followed with his 19th home run to account for both Chicago runs. Frank Bolling had three hits and Frank Thomas had a home run for the Braves.

Every starting Pirate participated in the merciless slaughter. Smoky Burgess had a couple of homers and drove in six runs,

Dick Stuart had a grand slammer and batted in five runs, Bill Mazeroski had four hits, and Bill Virdon, Don Hoak and Bob Skinner had three hits apiece.

Ken Johnson, who joined the Reds July 21, pitched his second victory, spacing nine hits as Cincinnati beat Philly righthander John Buzhardt for the fifth time this season.

Tigers Narrow Yanks Lead

By The Associated Press

The pitchers finally had their day in the American League Thursday, yielding only six home runs in five games, five of them in the Chicago-Cleveland contest won by the White Sox 8-6.

The only other home run was hit by Detroit's Rocky Colavito, which gave the Tigers a 2-1 triumph over Washington and narrowed the New York Yankees' first place lead over Detroit to a game and a half. The Yankees were defeated by Kansas City 6-1, with Bob Shaw holding Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and company to six hits, all singles.

Skinny Brown pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 victory over Minnesota. It was the 36-year-old right-hander's third straight shutout and extended his consecutive scoreless string to 32 innings.

Rookie Don Schwall of Boston blanked the Los Angeles Angels 4-0 with three hits for his 12th victory in 14 decisions and his sixth straight.

Brown of Baltimore and Jim Kaat of Minnesota were locked in a scoreless duel until the eighth when the Orioles scored three runs on two hits and a pair of Minnesota errors.

Detroit's Jim Bunning pitched a four-hitter against the Senators. The tall right-hander fanned six for his 12th victory, seventh in his last nine decisions.

Second baseman Jerry Lumpe, who once played for the Yankees, led the A's nine-hit assault against loser Bud Daley, a former Kansas City pitcher. Lumpe had a double and triple, scored twice and drove in a run.

The Red Sox broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Schwall and Ken McBride of the Angels, scoring all their runs in the eighth.

Bubba Phillips got the Indians off to a 4-0 lead with a grand slam homer in the first inning but the White Sox came back with two runs in each of the second, third, fourth and ninth innings. The last two tallies, which proved to be the winning runs, resulted from relief pitcher Frank Funk's wild throw on a bunt. Luis Aparicio, with a home run and two singles, led the Sox' 13-hit attack.

Whether Clemente wins the MVP title or not, he should, barring a catastrophe, capture the batting title. His mark of .366 is 24 points higher than that of his nearest competitor, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati.

Robinson bashed his 33rd home run as the Reds defeated Philadelphia 7-1 for their 15th victory in as many meetings with the Phillies this season. The triumph enabled the Reds to maintain their game lead over Los Angeles, which nipped San Francisco,

4-3, in 10 innings. Milwaukee defeated Chicago 5-2.

Harvey Haddix was the beneficiary of the Pirates' avalanche of runs against Al Cicotte, Bob Miller and Lindy McDaniel.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I got my engagement ring last night and I wanted you to be among the first to know because I think you are responsible.

My boy friend tried to talk me into a few things which I didn't think were right. After a couple of months of battling I knew I needed outside help or I would collapse, so I wrote to you for advice.

Whenever I felt myself weakening, I read him certain sentences of your advice. At first he said, "Ann's probably a shriveled up old crow who never has had a date in her life. That picture of her must be 30 years old."

Then his brother wrote that he heard you speak and that you were not an old crow, but a fairly decent-looking woman. I guess that turned the tide because from then on he stopped making fun of my advice and last night he gave me my ring. Thanks a lot. —J.R.

Dear J.R.: You're welcome.

A Widow's Might

Dear Ann: My husband's older sister is ruining my life. She'll be 68 next month (a widow) loaded with dough and strong as a mule. She drove alone from Maine to California last winter and changed two tires on the road. Ruth plays poker four nights a week, takes mamba lessons and lives it up. She'll go any place at the drop of a travel folder but when we want to leave town she becomes mysteriously ill.

Last week we were packed to leave on a fishing trip up north. She phoned at 2 a.m. to say she was having a heart attack. We rushed over there and the doctor said she had a slight muscle spasm in her left arm. (I'll bet she'd been playing the slot machine.)

My husband says he knows she's a liar but if anything happened to her while he was away he'd never forgive himself. What can I do? —CANT COPE.

Dear Cope: If your husband knows she's a liar and continues to fall for her dramatics then he's pretty bugged, too.

It sounds as if Ruth travels it up pretty good. Why not plan your trips to coincide with hers? Then if she has a heart attack in Las Vegas while you are in Wisconsin your husband will be able to forgive himself.

Family Oddball

Dear Ann: You gave the right answer to that woman who wanted to know if she should change her son's last name so that it would be the same as his stepfather's.

My mother was a widow, too, and when she remarried I had to keep my blood father's name because it said so in the will. My stepfather had sons and it was hard for me to accept them as brothers for a long time because of the different last names.

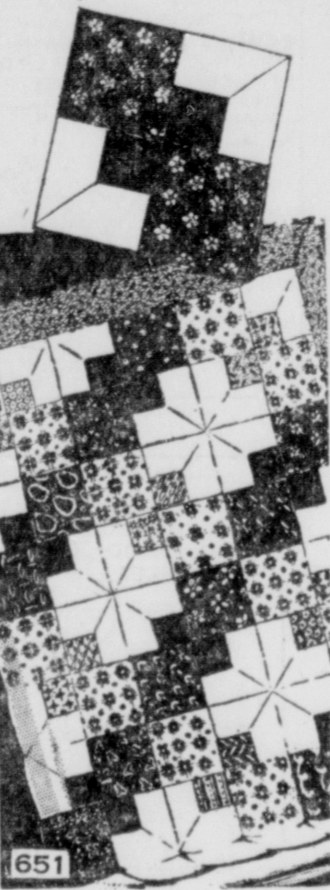

All through school I had to answer questions and I hated it. It seems very odd to kids that brothers should not have the same last name. Unless children are almost grown, it is my firm belief that their names should be changed when their mother changes hers. —ODD MAN OUT.

Confidentially

TO POOR-FARM FRANK: A wife who goes so completely wild with the charge accounts should be put on a limited allowance. She sounds ill.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Accountant Indicted For $8,392 Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A federal grand jury Thursday indicted a public accountant on charges of pocketing $8,392 in tax money he collected from four clients.

The government said Henry M. Griffith Jr., 54, of Pittsburgh, used the money for personal expenses.

Griffith also was charged with failure to file his own income tax returns in 1957, 1958 and 1959.

Indicted on an embezzling charge was Anna R. Burdak of Pittsburgh, a former assistant treasurer of the Beaver Ave. Federal Credit Union, Pittsburgh. She was accused of taking $17,470.

Also indicted were:

Joseph W. Alberico, 36, New Castle, for detaining and delaying the mail. He is accused of taking $50 from letters last May while working as a substitute mail carrier at New Castle.

Harold E. Dietle, 37, Meyersdale, R. D. 2 for mail theft. Dietle is charged with taking $114 in unemployment checks from his neighbor's mail box during June and July of 1960.

Arnold M. Harbarger, 18, Chalk Hill, on charges of running a still on state game lands in Wharton Twp., Fayette Co. Federal agents said they confiscated some 360 gallons of mash when they arrested Harbarger last June 9.

Carl J. Rose, 38, Donora, for mail theft. He is charged with stealing $408 in checks from the mails in Donora and Monongahela.

Civic Leaders Heard

Kiwanis Club Holds Panel On City Needs And Assets

The city's needs and its assets were given a hard, fast look during a panel discussion by various civic leaders at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Alvin Babb, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was moderator for the panel which included Dr. John A. Fraser, physician, and Dr. M. A. Alpern, a dentist, both of the Lions Club, C. Walter Ashbaugh of the Board of Education and Rotary Club, and Don Eckert of the city Planning Commission and a Kiwanian.

Ashbaugh outlined the need and necessity for upgrading the education system for the eventual benefit of the community. He said city residents have been very good in the past in providing the needed monies for the system by approving various levies.

Most of the money returns directly to the community through the salaries paid the teachers and the purchase of supplies, he commented.

Dr. Fraser outlined the need for the ability to handle mass casualties in event of a disaster. He said East Liverpool is in about the center of an area with an approximate population of 10 million. In event one of the nearby big cities would be bombed, the city would be considered a spot to evacuate the casualties.

He said planning on this phase is under way by the doctors of town and the hospital administration. He said this planning should continue through Civil Defense and other agencies.

Dr. Alpern urged his audience to take a good look at East Liverpool and see it as it actually is, pointing out the community is over 100 years old. He said no attempt has been made to comply with fire regulations in the many old business buildings which still stand. He spoke also on the general laxity of the public in modernizing the city.

Dr. Alpern said the city must dress up to sell itself to outsiders. He also suggested that a Speakers' Bureau be organized with the members attending meetings of civic and any group that meets to outline what is needed.

Eckert discussed the Planning Commission, of which he has been a member three years. He said the commission has not made any progress with the current or preceding administrations. The outlook of the future has been neglected as the administration is busy caring for things which demand immediate attention.

He also pointed out that although there are thousands of cities ahead of East Liverpool, there still are thousands behind it. He said it is not too late to pursue a plan for advancing the community.

The program took about 50 minutes. About 43 were present.

Reports were heard on inter-club visitations made to the Wellsville and Leetonia - Washingtonville clubs.

A Board of Directors meeting will be held Monday noon at the hotel. H. Judson English, president, conducted business.

Weirton Asks Delay For Water Hearing

CHARLESTON — The Public Service Commission has postponed to Aug. 31 a show-cause proceeding involving Alfonso Wargacki, who operates a small water system at Weirton.

The case originally was scheduled for hearing Thursday but the city of Weirton, an intervenor, asked for the delay.

The PSC said Wargacki had failed to apply for an operating certificate. The agency ordered him to show cause, if any, why he should not be required to apply.

Wargacki's system serves 21 customers.
